

Interviewer: Pindutin ko lang ito. Ayan, so recording na siya. Ayan, so to officially start, sige, papakilala muna ako sa iyo. So magandang gabi, gabi na pala. So ako si Christelle, isa akong researcher para sa project ng many quali, na may layunin pag-aralan ang kalidad ng relasyon 'no. So sinasagawa ang research na to sa limang bansa, sa U.S., Brazil, France, Netherlands, at tsaka dito sa Pilipinas. So maaari pong tumagal ang interview, mula 30 minutes to 1 hour and 30 minutes depende sa mga isi-share mo sa akin. So huwag kang mahihiya na manghingi sa aking ng break kung kinakailangan. Tapos, ire-record namin ang interview na ito, pero hindi naman ito ibabahagi sa kaninuman na walang kinalaman sa project. So ito ay para lang matandaan namin ang mga sasabihin mo. So meron ka bang mga katanungan o komento sa puntong ito?

Speaker: Ah none naman.

Interviewer: Okay, ayan. So, pwede ko bang tanungin kung ilang taon ka na?

Speaker: I'm [16-20] years old, turning [21-25] on [Month].

Interviewer: So [16-20], turning [21-25]. So, gaano na kayo katagal ni [Partner's Name]?

Speaker: About [6-10] years.

Interviewer: [6-10] years.

Speaker: Actually, turning [6-10] this year.

Interviewer: Turning [6-10] years this year. So meron ba yung specific month?

Speaker: In [Month].

Interviewer: [Month]. So malapit lapit na rin pala. So, meron ba kayong anak?

Speaker: Hmm?

Interviewer: Meron ba kayong anak?

Speaker: Ah, no.

Interviewer: So paano mo tinatawag si [Partner's Name]?

Speaker: Depende naman po, pero I usually call her by either [Partner's Name] or [Partner's Name].

Interviewer: [Partner's Name] or [Partner's Name].

Speaker: Yup.

Interviewer: So ilan kayo magkakasama sa bahay? So bali yung living conditions mo?

Speaker: Uhm wait lang po. Kasama po ba ang [occupation]?

Interviewer: Oo sige, Sama natin.

Speaker: Uhm we are a total of [1-5].

Interviewer: So [1-5] kayo sa bahay? Ano-ano mga relasyon mo sa mga kasama mo sa bahay? So kaano-ano mo sila?

Speaker: My parents, both my mom and my dad. Then both of my brothers, then one helper.

Interviewer: Oh, tapos, ano naman yung kasalukuyang trabaho mo? O pangunahing pinagkukunan mo ng panggastos o gastusin?

Speaker: I get my allowance from weekly allowance from my parents. Then I'm working under my [family member]. So bale allowance and salary.

Interviewer: So bale estudyante ka, pero you're also working right now.

Speaker: Ya.

Interviewer: Okay, so pwede mo bang ikwento sa amin yung love story niyo ni [Partner's Name]?

Speaker: Hold on, well, how I met [Partner's Name] was that I asked a friend who's also from the school she studied at. I asked kasi kaka-transfer ko lang sa [location] na yun. So I asked her if she knows any other friends that she knows who reside in the same subdivision. So ayun, that's how I parang, nakilala ko si [Partner's Name]. And then it started like, parang, of course, nag-hahanap akong friend. So, uhm, then she was in a house of a friend then, she was there with other friends. Then parang we communicate, but of course I was still shy at that time. Then fast forward to that, inaaya ko si [Partner's Name] na mag-bike. Tas mga ganoon.

Interviewer: Oo.

Speaker: Then yeah.

Interviewer: Inaaya na magbike—

Speaker: Then, ganun, try to put everything into, to cut it short. Hold on. Tapos, when we started to bond more, parang nags-start na din na mag-develop yung feelings ko para kay [Partner's Name]. Tapos, I would always drop by her house, pero di pa alam nang parents ko. Tapos di pa alam nang parents niya. So parang sinisipag ko every day, kahit I'm busy or I'm not feeling well. I would always drop by her house just to talk to her. Parang nasa labas lang house niya. Tapos, I didn't mind na parang kinakagat na akong ng lamok or nagugutom ako kasi yung, I wanted to. Sorry po, wait lang.

Interviewer: Hello, [Participant's Name].

Speaker: I'm sorry, my dog was barking.

Interviewer: Ah Okay. Akala ko nawala yung connection.

Speaker: So ayun, like, I would always go there to the point na napapansin na yung parents ni [Partner's Name] na, napapansin na ng parents niya na, yung father niya.

Interviewer: Lagi kang andun.

Speaker: Yah, so they slowly allowed me to enter the house kasi, of course, nakakahiya na palagi akong nasa labas. Then this is the summary of how I met [Partner's Name] din. Dun din nag-start lahat.

Interviewer: So gaano yan? So kung [16-20] ka ngayon, [6-10] years na ngayon, so you met when you were [11-15], ano?

Speaker: Yeah. So that's just like, I was in [Grade Level].

Interviewer: Oo, mga gaano yun katagal before mo parang naramdaman na parang or naisip na gusto mo siya?

Speaker: Well, I will go back, yung diba nagkaroon ng hangout, the core ng hangout. Kasi I had a certain parang trauma with communicating with other people. So nung yung, interaction ayun, when I hugged her, parang kinilig ako ng sobra na di ko na control yung nararamdaman ko. Parang dun nag-start. Parang sinipag ko nga lahat na i-spend my time, mostly every day with [Partner's Name]. Like messaging tas puntahan ko siya, since we live in the same [location].

Interviewer: So paano mo sinabi sa kanya na or parang pinaalam mo sa kanya na na nagugustuhan mo na siya, ganyan? Did you formally ask?

Speaker: Uhm, well, she's the one who made the move first because it's a really long story, but I don't want to go to that. Then she made, parang sinabi niya na she likes me, so parang I told her, then I like her back.

Interviewer: Okay, tapos. Kumusta yun noong sinabi nyo sa yung gusto ka niya? What did you feel?

Speaker: It was really overwhelming, yung positive na overwhelming. Kasi di ko ma-control yung emotions ko to the point na I was starting to be really hyper and happy because, of course, knowing that your crush likes you back makes you really happy. To the point na parang naiyak na din ako. Kasi my fear, I always had the fear of getting rejected, but this one, she didn't. Well, I mean, I didn't reject her because I like her. I like [Partner's Name], like really much, really a lot.

Interviewer: Tapos ano, kumusta yun? After ba noon, ikaw ba ay nanligaw sa kanya? Or what happened then? Noong nagsabi siya sa yun na siya likes you?

Speaker: Well, I started to give her things. Kasi one of my love languages is acts of service. Parang I would cook for her, then give her gifts mga ganun na, of course, some of them comes from my savings and some of them is like I really made letters and mga ganun.

Interviewer: oo, So gaano siya katagal pala na niligawan? Bago kayo naging formally together?

Speaker: I cannot really say, kasi we decided mutually na parang ganun. Siguro it took like yung mutual understanding stage. I cannot really say, but of course, we decided it na once. I think it's like [1-5] years?

Interviewer: [1-5] years para kayong non-exclusively dating. Parang you like each other or there's no label.

Speaker: yah, yeah.

Interviewer: I want to ask next, kumusta na naman yung kalidad or quality ng relationship ninyo ni [Partner's Name]? Kung ikokompara mo naman nito sa mga kaibigan mong may ka-partner din?

Speaker: Well to compare, I would say, if I'm gonna rate it, I would rate it to 11 out of 10. Kasi it's really great, feel na feel ko talaga yung relationship namin. It really makes me happy.

Interviewer: Do you also have friends who are in a relationship?

Speaker: Yes.

Interviewer: If we would try to see or compare kung how you guys are doing versus how they're doing, can you share that ba?

Speaker: Uhm...I'm not sure how I can compare it with my other friends' relationship. Pero most of the time, parang in the end ibang iba yung relationship naming, me and my relationship and [Partner's Name].

Interviewer: Ano yung mga na-share nila sa inyo o mga bakit nila, kumbaga why they end their relationship?

Speaker: Kasi I took up [Program] tas tuwing pinopost ni [Partner's Name], like in an [Social Media] story na linulutuan ko si [Partner's Name] or when it comes to mga dates, they would compare that and say parang sana-all that wish they could have a relationship like that. Kasi it's like yung relationship namin is too perfect already but of course there's no perfect relationship. Kasi yung relationships ng mga friends namin parang like puro, away, tapos wala yung mga dates and such.

Interviewer: So parang nainggit sila kasi parang yung sa inyo, dating and you're having fun?

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: Tapos,pwede ko bang alamin kung ilan na yung nakarelationship mo dati?

Speaker: Well, only one, so in total [1-5], which is [Partner's Name].

Interviewer: Gaano kayo katagal nung naging nakarealtionship mo before si [Partner's Name]?

Speaker: It lasted lang a few months.

Interviewer: Few months, so if you're going to compare naman, your relationship doon sa Ex mo, tapos kay [Partner's Name], in terms of quality, ayan, kumusta yung quality of relationship mo compared to that?

Speaker: No bias kasi I would prefer yung relationship ko na with [Partner's Name] kasi di ko masyadong nagustuhan yung first ko. Kasi I had a lot of questions. I wanted to hang out mga ganun. It was LDR, so I keep initiating then nothing happened. So parang nawalan na din ako ang gana tas, parang nawala din ang feelings for that person.

Interviewer: So parang hindi nasustain na yung connection.

Speaker: Parang yung she wasn't, she didn't have the ability to reciprocate what I was feeling.

Interviewer: So in terms of quality, parang you're saying parang mas okay yung sa inyo ni [Partner's Name]?

Speaker: Yeah, of course. Gusto ko tong relationship compared to my last one kasi ayun. Parang yung nakulangan na din ako.

Interviewer: So next naman, kailan mo masasabi na mataas ang kalidad ng isang relationship?

Speaker: Can you say that in English? I am sorry

Interviewer: Okay, so when can you say or when would you say that a relationship has a high quality?

Speaker: I think people would say na, I would say for what I've heard muna from other people. They say na high quality relationship is like walang away at all. For me, I think yung high quality parang idadaan mo muna sa mga arguments kasi yung mga arguments, misunderstanding of relationship. It builds the relationship in a way to strengthen it. I would say that would be a high quality relationship. Pero of course, for me, if I have mga problems, at least I know how to resolve it right away na without the need of other people to know what is going on with me and [Partner's Name]. Was I able to answer your question po?

Interviewer: Oo naman, ayun. Parang basically you're saying a relationship has a good quality. If you have certain conflicts, yun ay nagrerresolve nyo when it's the two of you and there are no other people involved.

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: So what about, how would you say that a relationship has a poor quality naman?

Speaker: Poor quality. Just like what I said yung about the problems, maybe yung mga poor quality is like every day nag-aaway. So everything is like one sided and there's no compromise from both sides. So parang paulit-ulit lang every day. Parang constant may away, constant misunderstanding, no compromise from both sides.

Interviewer: So parang ano may pride?

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: Sorry, are you saying that thing?

Speaker: I think then, aside from those three, like there's no spending time together kasi both sides are busy and they don't really have time for each other. So I think that would be a factor in a poor quality of relationship.

Interviewer: When they don't spend time together or no quality time. So for you, what are the most important things in a relationship?

Speaker: First and foremost, I think the important factors for a quality relationship would be of course time. Then, respect for each other, tapos, mga dates kasi dates talaga would give of course mga time. Then it would give the opportunity of giving heart to heart talk with partner, with your partner. That's what me and [Partner's Name] would do to communicate mga things what's going on in the relationship or what's going on with our life. Tas, I think the fourth one would be comfortable with each other. Kasi if you're not comfortable with each other, Edi you won't be open then. So if you're close-minded, parang magkakaroon ng misunderstanding in the relationship. Tas, who would want magkakaroon ng misunderstanding? That's all po.

Interviewer: Next question is, for you what is love?

Speaker: Can you please repeat the question? You are choppy po.

Interviewer: For you what is love?

Speaker: I think it's something that I cannot fully explain but for me it's something that of course I'm willing to do anything for my partner which is [Partner's Name]. That I am able to compromise because of it because her happiness is above my own.

Interviewer: So parang, it's your priority. So how important is love in the relationship?

Speaker: I think it's really really important kasi siya yung foundation of the relationship. Kasi without love, it's like, ah sorry, what were you saying po?

Interviewer: Sorry, just go on.

Speaker: Kasi without love, parang ang dull lang ng relationship. It's like you're pretending to be loving each other pero di naman tunay yung love na yung. Parang it's just like fake love, fake happiness mga So I think love is really important para sa akin kasi siya talaga yung magiging foundation ng relationship. That's where everything started. Parang, oh I have a crush on you because why? Because I like you. Why would you like someone because you're willing to give your time for them because you love them?

Interviewer: So parang basically you're saying is love is what makes the relationship genuine?

Speaker: Yes.

Interviewer: So how do you know that your partner loves you?

Speaker: Well, for [Partner's Name], I really feel it kasi if I have a problem, like she's willing to listen to me. Then she's going to voice out in her opinion about what I told her. Parang we're both able to reciprocate what we were feeling, then mare-resolve yung problem na yun. Pero aside from that, I cannot really explain it kasi since my love language is act of service but I like receiving physical touch. Parang nararamdaman ko na, love na love ni [Partner's Name] ako.

Interviewer: So parang siya communicates also with you in terms of your love language?

Speaker: Yeah, then through her body language, I can feel it.

Interviewer: So what would you say are the challenges in your relationship?

Speaker: I'll mention yung mga first challenges na away when we were starting palang. We have a lot of misunderstanding, mga miscommunication. Of course, myself, I entered the relationship kasi akala ko lang entering a relationship is having a label. Pero it's more than just that. I would spend time more on playing video games than talking to her. Pero of course, minimessage ko parang habang nagkakaroon ako ng break while playing the games. Pero nagkaroon ng parang ang tension sa relationship namin about quality time. Because [Partner's Name] values quality time. So yan yung mga first challenges that I've encountered in a relationship which is not understanding how a relationship works. Misunderstanding tas miscommunication.

Interviewer: Are there mga specific kumbaga or specific timelines? When did that happen? Is it during the first year that you were officially together or gaano na kayo katagal?

Speaker: MU stage.

Interviewer: MU stage? Oo.

Sp: So it's like from [Month] and [Month]. So siguro mga [1-5] month after.

Interviewer: So parang she get upset that you would rather...

Speaker: Siya, siya was really upset. Because I really didn't understand how a relationship works. Parang I found it on my own and along with her what a relationship is really like. Parang commitment. Hindi lang, it's just like label, label lang yan. Pero it's commitment and compromise.

Interviewer: So how did you handle that kind of issues? You said communication yan. How did your conversation go?

Speaker: Well, I don't really remember. Pero from what I said kanina, don't let other people get to know yung mga pinagdadaan mo with your partner. Kasi back in the day, I would ask other people for help on how to fix mga problems.

Interviewer: How would that turn out whenever you'd ask other people?

Speaker: Well, first of all they would say break up na yan kasi problems na it will parang keep growing and growing. It's like asking for advice or help from certain kinds of people without experiences of having a relationship aside from watching movies regarding relationships. They really gave bad advice, especially mga break na yan kasi the problem keeps repeating and repeating.

Interviewer: Was there a time na parang you almost follow their advice or you were really set na?

Speaker: Nung bago pa, yes. Pero now, siguro, I stopped doing that mga kasi I already realized na they weren't helping at all. And of course for privacy, for me and [Partner's Name].

Interviewer: So, are there any other challenges?

Speaker: None naman.

Interviewer: Oh, so during talaga na mga first years, dun lumabas iyong mga communication challenges niyo. So, next question. Aside from communicating, are there other ways or what are the other ways that you do in order to maintain your relationships?

Speaker: Wait lang, let me think. I think it would be, of course, because communication would be one. Because you should always communicate your concerns or the things you want to talk about with your partner. Second, ayun nyo yung sinabi ko kanina, dates. Because it's really important in a relationship. So like spending time and doing something together with your partner. Then, I think third would be, There's something that me and [Partner's Name] would do is talk about our future together. It's one thing then. It sets already a future foundation for you and your partner in a relationship. I communicate with [Partner's Name], what's my dream house and what's her dream house then, of course. I don't know how to say it. But it doesn't match with my dream house and our dream house. So we're going to compromise then for our dream dog or where would we want to have our wedding mga ganun. Like we always want to talk about our future. I think it would be one thing. It really depends for others and for us, it works naman.

Interviewer: So parang ano ma, parang it's yung happy when the two of you parang, are planning your future together. You seem to enjoy that.

Speaker: Like we're dreaming.

Interviewer: And you do it together, di ba?

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: Already also compromising di ba if there are any parang differences.

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: So next question. Would you say that the relationship is good for you and why?

Speaker: I think our relationship is already good for me, because [Partner's Name] is really making me happy. Sobrang masaya ako. Like kahit if I don't see her for one day or aalis na siya malungkot na ako kasi I love her presence because it really makes me happy.

Interviewer: So for example, can you tell me any specific things that makes your relationship good for you? So besides making you happy or how does it make you more happy? Do you have any specific things naman?

Speaker: Yeah. This one is really memorable. Kasi nung birthday ko, it's a coincidence nag absent ako. Kasi I wasn't feeling well. Of course, I didn't know na my surprise party. So I found out. Kasi nakita ko sa sila. Then when I saw [Name], I was happy. She gave me an ice cream cake. Kasi mahilig ko sa ice cream. Then I was happy.

Speaker: Or there's one na pinaka recent then. Which was my graduation noong [Grade Level] na I was with her na. Tapos she said she's gonna get the flowers kasi he said it's for a friend. Pero that friend happens to be me. So she gave me a flower. I was in shock. Of course, parang nahiha din ako kasi a guy receiving flowers for me parang baliktan. It's supposed a girl should receive a flower, not a guy. Parang natawan na din ako. I started to be feeling emotional. Pero I can't be feeling emotional before my graduation.

Interviewer: So parang ano, she put effort to make you happy. Tapos paarang it's all seemingly unexpected. Coming on your part.

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: So, next question is did your friendship change you and in what way?

Speaker: Yeah, it really changed me. Kasi nung first few months ko, of course, dahil sa past ko, before I have this situation, oh, got it this ugali Parang sobrang childish ko, Tas immature. Iyan yung pinakasignificant na change ko, Parang I started to mature in the relationship because I now know how to make my own decisions while before hindi ko pa magawa. Then I was an introvert back then. Now I'm not a introvert. Siguro mga ambivert na. Parang umangat na din yung communication to socializing skills ko. Sobrang mahiyain ko naman [6-10] years ago. Tapos one thing, just one thing then, I was able to speak Filipino. Kasi nung mga times na yun, parang may English accent pa yung Filipino ko, pero compared to now, di na masyado. Wala na yung accent na yun, then, I was able to communicate Filipino properly. Pero sorry, yun taglish pa rin. Kasi I've studied in English school. Puro englishero hanggang ngayon.

Interviewer: Oh, okay naman. Yan, so kumbaga parang, she changed in a way that you grew, while you grew in terms of your socialization skills.

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: Okay, so what about your partner? Did she change during the relationship?

Speaker: Yes, kasi para sa akin, si [Partner's Name], she had more of a foundation of what a relationship is like. So, of course, it comes with pride. Parang nasoften up ko yung pride in a way na parang malleable siya sa relationship namin. Parang nakicarry, parang she starts to pick up yung mga ugali ko na how to be patient and all and how to be sweet. Parang tinuturuan ko din mga certain things. She was able to pick it up on her own.

Interviewer: So may mga natutunan din siya sayo.

Speaker: Yeah. I wasn't able to mention. I was able to learn things from her also.

Interviewer: In terms of what?

Speaker: There's one thing that I still really remember vividly. Kasi I did driving school. I was showing off to people na, marunong pa ako mag-parallel park pero pagdating dun, mag-parallel park ko kasi in front of her family. Di ko magawa. So, siya her parents taught her how to do driving. Then she didn't go driving school. So, she taught me. So ngayon, marunong na din akong parallel park without saying, nag pinagyabang ko pa. Tapos di pala ako marunong.

Interviewer: Oo, may mga skills din ano?

Speaker: Yeah.

Interviewer: She also taught you new skills. So, next question is do you feel safe in the relationship and why do you say so?

Speaker:: I think I feel really safe kasi if ever I have a problem, like really personal problem and it's not related to the relationship, I'm able to tell it to [Partner's Name] without any judgment, opinion or criticism. Like she's willing to hear out what's going on. I really feel safe kasi when I tell it from other friends, they would say parang ang babaw lang noon or it's really petty. I don't want to hear that. I don't really want criticism. Especially sobrang lala ang problem, pero in their perspective, it's mababaw lang. So, [Partner's Name] really makes me feel safe in the relationship to the point na, it's like, I'm a.....I don't know, disregard that.

Interviewer: Hello, [Name]?

Speaker:: I don't know. I don't know what to say na after it's likesorry.

Interviewer: Sige okay lang. But basically, it's usually safe because whenever you share something, she don't judge you, ganyan.

Speaker:: Yeah.

Interviewer:So next question is if I were to ask so if you're going to rate in a scale from one to nine, one being not all true and then nine is completely true, my partner usually really listens to me, what would be your answer?

Speaker: I think it would be an eight.

Interviewer: Next question na.

Speaker: Because there are times na I don't know. next question na.

Interviewer: No, sige, kasi itatanong ko rin yung why.

Speaker:: Kasi if, example, I would ask her to do this. She's like willingly to do it and at the same time, she's not. So sometimes, she does it 90% but the 10% na iiwan.

Interviewer: So mga in what way? Do you have any specific?

Speaker:: Well, there's one way naman. Because I like to drink water. Usually, I would drink eight to twelve glasses and then I would remind her to do the same pero pinapalitan niya instead of tubig. She changes it to juice.

Interviewer: So next naman, if I'm going to ask you to rate also in a scale of one to nine, my partner usually is responsive to my needs. How would you rate that?

Speaker:: Nine.

Interviewer: Why did you answer nine for that statement?

Speaker:: Because if I really want something, for example, like a material na I would ask her if she can get me this on my birthday or if ever I have an academic achievement, she would get it naman pero if not, she would tell me naman na she's still saving up for something which I will completely understand.

Interviewer: So talagang andoon ang communication niyo?

Speaker:: Yeah.

Interviewer: So next question, if you don't mind if I ask if you feel free to say it, if this is sensitive for you to share but also wanted to know more about your physical intimacy as a couple. So these days, how often do you have sex?

Speaker:: Maybe it's like two to three times a month because of course it's what I want to do it like every week because both of us are still in college so sobrang busy naming all the time di magagawa which we also communicate then.

Interviewer: Okay.

Speaker:: Yeah. Lahat ng mga ginagawa naming always communicate because if you don't communicate of course, what will happen? Problems.

Interviewer: So next question naman how satisfied are you with your sex life?

Speaker:: Nine.

Interviewer: Why do you say so?

Speaker:: I don't want to go in depth. I would only say it's really great.

Interviewer: Okay. So in general, how satisfied are you with your relationship in a scale of one to ten? One being completely dissatisfied ten being completely satisfied.

Speaker:: Ten.

Interviewer: So why did you answer ten? Not three, not five?

Speaker:: Because all I can say now if it wasn't for her I think I would still be the same person the time I would the time I met her I wouldn't be really much or I wouldn't be able to learn mga social skills tapos yung mga iba.

Interviewer: Okay. So we're close to wrapping up I would just like to summarize what we have converse in the past hour. So just a short summary. So I started by asking you how old you were, you said [16-20]. How long you've been together with your partner? you've been together for [6-10] years [1-5] years, your stage of being in mutual understanding with each other and then [1-5] years officially you have made close to your relationship, and then you don't have children and then you live together with your family with their [1-5] of you living in the house and then you call from here with a nickname and then your love story is that you live at the same [location] when you first transferred you were ten and then the more you spent time with her you get attracted and you really get excited when you see her then eventually she expressed that she has feeling for you and you really felt happy you said you felt kilig whenever you see her and then so if you're going to compare your relationship with other friends you would say that you couldn't really compare but in terms of your friends they usually get jealous of your relationship whenever they see how you would post about each other on social media there's appreciation with how you handle your relationship and then and romantic partners in the past you had one and you said if you're going to compare your relationship with that person and with her right now you would say na it's so much better because in the past you had or it was quick was too much.

Speaker:: Yep.

Interviewer: So what made relationship high quality is if there's respect to spend time with each other then if you can communicate ganyan and the most important relationship you answered a lot of things also but basically one of the most important thing is the communication and spending time with each other for you naman what is love is one thing to do things for that person tama ba?

Speaker:: Yah.

Interviewer: From being available for them and you know that your partner loves you she is always there for you whatever you want to share something with her and what would you say the challenges in your relationship during the first few stages you had some communication problems in terms of spending time with each other but because since you're very young then can you have a concept of how or what your relationship entails that you should spend time with them besides the label but then you were able to resolve that by communicating and you figured out that when you are communicating you shouldn't involve other people in your decision making process and it must be the two of you to resolve your problems right?

Speaker:: Yup.

Interviewer: other ways to maintain your relationship besides communicating is spending time with one another, quality time so you also said that the quality of your relationship your relationship is good for you because since your relationship you were able to grow in terms of being able to socialize from being very shy you learned how to interact also diba and—

Speaker:: Yah

Interviewer: you changed in the relationship that you matured more you learned in terms of what to do in your relationship but also some skills like parallel parking and also [Partner's Name] also changed in your relationship in a sense that you thought you help her become more expressive and then you said you also feel safe in your relationship because whenever you share something and you feel that there's no judgment whatsoever unlike when you share with other people then you also rated your partner 9 thinking about the statement that you partner really listens to me or i mean 8 pala yun rated 9 with my partner usually is responsive to my needs for example and then you said you're very satisfied with your sex life and then also completely satisfied or you rated 10 your relationship as 10 meaning you're completely satisfied so am i right or is there anything you'd like to add?

Speaker: I think I would like to add I think it was like the high quality relationship i'm not sure if I mentioned it, it's compromise.

Interviewer: Oo, yah, yah, compromise you also mentioned compromise pala but you also have to consider your partner's perspective and being able to resolve something so thank you so much, [Name].

Speaker:: You're welcome.

Interviewer: Before we end I want to talk to you about how we will handle the data so as research project we want to be as ethically transparent as possible and so i want you to know which data sharing option you are most comfortable with so we have option one option one is that the transcript portions can be shared none of which can be identified to you so the transcript can also be read by other researchers meaning you're going to remove your name everything to identify you and the option two if you were bolder another option is that the whole transcript everything that we've talked about can be shared, removed of sensitive and overly identifying details so that if ever you share to me where you study and where you work so it will be anonymized although in this option there is a very minimal chances that someone who knows you well if they read the research report can piece together the details in the transcript and narrow down who among their colleagues they believe it is so although again no sensitive information will be shared in this option two. So of the two options which are you more comfortable with?

Speaker: I think the recording would be fine as long as di naman mention sino yun then it's private.
