

Speaker 1 [00:00:02] All right, so, the first questions I'm going to ask for this interview. Like I said, this interview should take roughly, one hour or so. So any questions I have or demographic? How old are you?

Speaker 2 [00:00:18] I'm [46-50].

Speaker 1 [00:00:20] Okay. All right. How long, have you been together with your partner?

Speaker 2 [00:00:29] I'm married out, [16-20] years ago. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:00:37] And years. Okay.

Speaker 2 [00:00:41] And.

Speaker 1 [00:00:42] Do you have children?

Speaker 2 [00:00:44] Yes, I have a [1-5].

Speaker 1 [00:00:46] Yeah. Children, do you know, like, how many would you have?

Speaker 2 [00:00:52] I have a [1-5].

Speaker 1 [00:00:52] Okay. Sorry. Sorry. And, who currently lives in your household?

Speaker 2 [00:01:01] [1-5] of them.

Speaker 1 [00:01:03] [1-5] children and, what you and your partner also be, in the household?

Speaker 2: [00:1:10] Yeah, right.

Speaker 1: [00:1:12] All right. What is? What would you say is your main source of income?

Speaker 2 [00:01:20] Both of us are working, so I think our salary is the main income from us.

Speaker 1 [00:01:28] All right. And what would you say? What is your, current job?

Speaker 2 [00:01:34] I'm a [Job Title].

Speaker 1 [00:01:36] [Job Title]. Okay. All right, and throughout this interview, I guess how would you like us to address your partner? Would it be a boyfriend? Partner? Husband?

Speaker 2 [00:01:49] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:01:50] I'm sorry?

Speaker 2 [00:01:51] My husband. Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:01:55] All right, all right. Thank you, thank you. All right, so for the next question, I kind of just want to ask about your love story. So could you tell me about, your love story?

[Portion Redacted]

Speaker 1 [00:03:47] Yeah. Thank you. So next question, I guess how would you compare the quality of your relationship compared to, that of your friends' relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:04:02] My friends compare with my friends. I think. I have a couple of a friend. They divorced. The reason I think, is [redacted]. Another of my friends. They divorced because, [redacted]. Yeah, that's that's the thing I can see. All right.

Speaker 1 [00:05:50] That. Thank you for that. Thank you for that. All right. So, can I ask, can I also ask about how many romantic partners you've had in the past?

Speaker 2 [00:06:06] Before I met my husband. I had a couple of friend. May I see. Maybe [1-5]? Yeah. Maybe [1-5] ex-boyfriends, before I met my husband. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:06:27] Okay. How would you compare? Yeah. How would you compare, your relationship now compared to, some of your ex-boyfriends?

Speaker 2 [00:06:39] I think, for my husband, I, trust is many important things right now. Even at the beginning, we met each other. I think, some of the, my some of my ex-boyfriend, they are not trust. They don't give a lot of trust to me. That's why I think. And, other than that, I think, interesting, like, doing interesting things together and, have, a lot of common things to do. That's, another important thing for my husband and I. So both of us, like. Well. Not now. No. My husband is totally different. Well, at that time, while we're dating. There's still. We going out a lot. We like, hanging out with our friends a lot. But, after we married? Having kids, so we are not going out as many as when we were dating. Yeah, that's a completely different thing. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:07:58] All right. Sounds good. That's very. No, that's very good. Thank you. Thank you. I guess my next question would involve, I guess for you, what would you say makes a relationship high quality and what would make it low quality?

Speaker 2 [00:08:18] I think, if we have a different opinion, we talked about it. Say it out. I think that's a good thing. Good way to communicate. But the other thing is not like, you have to fight a lot, fighting. Sometimes I keep quiet for a while, then think through. Then you can talk about it. Not fight at that moment when both of us, angry. So if I was angry, you would say something really bad to each other, right? So I don't think that that's a right thing to do. So sometimes, if my husband were, like my husband was in a bad mood. Say something not really nice to me, then I would just keep quiet. They leave him alone. Don't argue right away. Don't fight back right away. I don't think that's a healthy way. But, after that, I usually let him know. Okay. I don't like the way you treat me like that. Sometimes I will say, okay, this is how I feel if you say something to me. Not really nice. What if I say something? Same thing back to you. How do you feel? So he will, well, I think, most of the time my husband will come back to me, say sorry. He noticed that he's not really in that the right moment. At the time he was seeing something.

Speaker 1 [00:10:06] Oh, yeah. Thank you. And what would you say would make the relationship low quality?

Speaker 2 [00:10:12] Low quality, I think is. Actually, I don't know. Maybe housework. Too many housework. If you can hire someone to do the housework for you, well, just hire someone. Don't. Don't do. Don't do the tedious work by yourself and make the make your relationship really tension. I don't think that's the. Yeah, that's. That's what I'm thinking.

Speaker 1 [00:10:48] All right. So let's see when you, when would you say there was a time where communication wasn't good?

Speaker 2 [00:11:00] What do you mean?

Speaker 1 [00:11:01] Like, I know you mentioned that communication is important. But when would you say that? Communicate. Like when would you say is. Was there, like, a time where, communication between you two was, like, bad?

Speaker 2 [00:11:20] Communication. So it's, I think, some, some time, you should allow some, like, alone time. Not. Whoa! How should I say that? So if you're you're arguing with your partner or your husband, your wife, I think. Not at the angry moment to talk. Talk out something otherwise it will mess up the purpose of your communication, right? So at the moment, you were angry. Don't try to, don't try to say something. Don't try to say something clearly. You won't be. It won't be able to do that.

Speaker 1 [00:12:18] Yeah, yeah. Thank you. Perfect. I know you kind of already answered this, but I will just ask it again. Just to clarify, what do you think are the most important things in the relationship, and why would you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:12:36] Most important thing I think I trust is the one thing. The other thing. Well, communication is important as well. The I think there's another way to see if you have a very simple structure of your whole household. Just like a like, like my family, my husband and I and my for, four of us living here. So now that my parents living with us. This make the family structure very simple. So there's no other like. Well, some people fighting because, they think, the husband's mom has, a lot of, pressure to the wife or the wife's parents. I have a lot of pressure to the husband. So that's the where, conflict is sometimes. The simple structure of the family might be easier for the— Yeah, please. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:13:51] Yeah, right. Thank you. Okay, so for my next question, for you, what would you say love is or in other terms, what is love?

Speaker 2 [00:14:01] Love is. Comfort to stay with the person. Yeah. So if you don't feel comfortable, then there's no love at all. Yeah. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:14:16] All right. How how, important is love in our relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:14:23] I think it's pretty important because, if you don't think that there's a love, then why you staying in the relationship.

Speaker 1 [00:14:38] Yeah. All right. So how would you say. Or in other words, how do you know that your partner, loves you?

Speaker 2 [00:14:47] Many things. He remembers, our, important days. My birthday, the anniversary and, many things. And the always, when he get off from work. For me right now, I work from home most of the time. So he has to go to the work, every day. Well, not every day except a weekend. So usually when he came back, he was, hug me right away. Right. And, I know he he also, hears a lot of things about me. So he will hug me right away and is also curious a lot of things about me. So he will ask, how was your day? And he will say, okay, if you are too tired, don't make the being there a weekend. Just, buy some to go. Or sometimes he offered to help to cook. If he is, he has a free time. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:15:51] Yeah. Thank you. What would you say are the challenges in your relationship right now?

Speaker 2 [00:16:00] The challenges, well, kids. I have [1-5] kids, you know. Yeah, I know, a lot of time we have a different opinion for education for the kids' education. So sometimes my husband is like, he doesn't want to involve a lot of, kids. Like, how they what they need to study, what they want to do. You just give them a guideline like, roughly guideline. That's it. But, for a mom from my side, I think, I'm more detail. So I will see a lot of things, and I will pay a lot of attention to their grade and, their, how they were doing in the school. So a lot of time I will. Think my husband is not putting a lot of effort in there, and my house and my husband have a different opinion. That's how attention. A lot of the time we're fighting for this. This is our argument. Yeah. Other than that, I think he's a pretty good dad.

Speaker 1 [00:17:19] Yeah, definitely. All right. So I guess this just to confirm, this is kind of like the only thing you guys actually fight about.

Speaker 2 [00:17:29] Yeah, many, many times. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:17:34] Okay. So how often would you say these arguments tend to be?

Speaker 2 [00:17:42] Actually, for my daughter, we don't have a lot of, fighting because she is a very disciplined. So she knows what to do. She knows, what needs to be done, by when and by how. But, for my son, he's, he's a younger, he's a totally different, opposite way. So a lot of things I think I need pay more attention to him. But my husband has a different, opinion. He be thinking everybody have to be responsible for their, like, there's a a lot of things. I don't know, how should I say? But I, I hope my husband can involve a lot more ex.

Speaker 1 [00:18:39] Yeah. And how would you say that these fights tend to be resolved?

Speaker 2 [00:18:50] We never resolved that. We're still struggling because, my my son. Still, live with us. So I don't think, there's going to be a result until he go to the college. Then we don't have to. We don't have to see him or. Well, I think, for Asian parents, I think, we worry many things. Not not owning maybe at this time is education is the most important thing for him, we think. But maybe when he grow up, he can, we can worry about other things. His career, maybe. And, when he get married, then we will worry something else. Who knows? Just like my parents. Yeah. My parents, they were, my mom, she lives very close by us, and, she's always like I said, when I was in college, she always said, don't, don't date anyone, okay? After I graduate, and she, ohyou have to find someone, get married, okay? I get married, and then the whole. You have to have someone whom you can married. I can't married, and you have to have a kids right away. So that's a different story. Yeah. I think, well, my culture maybe is a little bit different, than the other, other parents. But, we will have a lot of a worry for kids, not only for education. Maybe in different stage. We will have a different worries.

Speaker 1 [00:20:34] All right. Yeah. So. What other ways do you think you guys maintain your relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:20:45] Other ways maintained. Well. I'm not really sure. So how do you have, like, for example, like. What do you mean?

Speaker 1 [00:20:59] Yeah. Like, so for example, if, if the way that let's say you guys would normally resolve the issue is like to talk about it, apart from talking about it, what else do you guys do?

Speaker 2 [00:21:18] I don't think that there's another thing, another way. But, for my son. I sent him to [school] last year. So I think both of us I agree with. I know it's a bit harder for us to do that. That's the one way to solve the problem. Yeah. So if we can oh another things I think if we cannot handle. Talk. Talk to my son in the right way. Usually my, son and my daughter, they have, like, video conference with video call with their grandparents over the weekend. So sometimes when we talk with our parents, we will ask them, okay, can you talk to my son or my daughter about the issue they have? So this is a helping a little bit, I think, because, there's a different generation, because, for grandparents, they give a lot of a different attention to the grandkids. Right? It's a, it's not like a parent's more direct to the kids, give more pressure from grandparents, and maybe they have a more love side instead of a pressure side. So kids, more, listening to grandparents than us. So, some we would talk to the grandparents to ask them, okay, can you talk about the issue? We think this is not good to them. And so kids will listen to the grandparents. That's another channel I can see. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:23:17] Oh, yeah. Yeah. Thank you. Thank you. All right, so this next question. Would you say that the relationship is good for you? And, why would you and. Yeah. Why?

Speaker 2 [00:23:29] Why?

Speaker 1 [00:23:30] Yeah. Would you say that the relationship is good for you? And why would you say it? Yeah, whatever your response would be.

Speaker 2 [00:23:39] So if my relationship is good for me?

Speaker 1 [00:23:42] Yes.

Speaker 2 [00:23:43] I of course, I think it's okay with me if you guess is more stable. Right? You always can rely on someone. If there's that happen, you always can find someone to talk about it. Right. And also. Yeah. I think most of the family like that. Yeah, yeah. All right.

Speaker 1 [00:24:07] Thank you. Did the relationship change you? If so, in what way?

Speaker 2 [00:24:18] The relationship changed me. Maybe. I think. Getting married is like, like a totally different. So, well, how should I say it's not the relationship changed me. It should be the responsibility changed me. Because, become a mom or become a wife. So, you have a different responsibility than you are daughter in the family, right? So I think, when I get married, there's a many things I learned after I get married. So before, I don't know how to cook. Now, well, I have to cook every day. This, this this the thing. Yeah. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:25:16] Right. Is the person who you were before you met your husband? Is that person? Different from the person today?

Speaker 2 [00:25:29] What do you mean?

Speaker 1 [00:25:30] So basically, before you met your husband. Would you say that you were a different person before? Apart from the responsibilities.

Speaker 2 [00:25:42] I think, not totally different, but my temperature's changed. How should I say? My mom always say okay before I seldom get angry. And now I get married. A lot of times I'm easy to get pissed off. Well, that's not because of the relationship. I can say it's of because, from many things. Many things. Of course, a relationship is another thing because you are living with, the other person, not your family who lived with you for like, 20 or 30 years, right? So starting a new family is like, totally, you have to adapt the other's, habit. And the the other also need to, get use of your habit. So, yeah, that's that's a one of the challenges being at the beginning. Well, after you have a kids, then that's a totally different thing. You're not. You're not thinking about the habit of your husband anymore. So more attention to your kids? Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:26:57] All right. What about your husband? Did your husband change, during the relationship? So, like, the person he was before he met you? Is that the same person you see today?

Speaker 2 [00:27:12] Hmhm. I think he also changed a little bit. Be more responsible. Well, this should be easy because, become like, when we just got married. I just graduate from school. Not for long. So my job, my income, work at that time is not really high. So. All right. He's the person, he's the person who supports the family. Yeah. So I think at the time, he has more pressure than me because he has to he has to work. Well, you can't see that. I don't know. I'm sorry. Maybe. Maybe next day I can ask you laughs [inaudible].

Speaker 1 [00:28:14] All right, that's fine. No. That's fine. All right. What about this? Do you feel safe in the relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:28:27] Yes. Yes, I feel safe.

Speaker 1 [00:28:31] And you provide examples of what that safety would look like.

Speaker 2 [00:28:41] I don't have to worry about if I lost my job. That's one of the safety. The other thing is, I can I can always count on him, because if there's something happen. For example, if, my car. Wow. My car broke down in the middle of a highway, I can always. I won't think of calling the roadside service right away. The first person I can think is, calling up, calling him about this issue. Yeah. That's yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:29:24] All right. Sounds good. All right, so for these next few questions, I want to show you something you don't have to show your screen, but I'm just gonna show you a picture. Show you not a picture, but more of a, okay. So if you can see my screen there are. You're looking at it? All right. So.

Speaker 1 [00:29:59] All right, so I hear I have kind of like a scale from 1 to 9. And you have a statement over here. Statement is my partner usually listens to me on a scale of 1 to 9. How true do you think this statement is regarding your husband? One means not at all true. He doesn't do it whatsoever. Nine means he definitely does this all the time. It's completely true.

Speaker 2 [00:30:27] I can see 6 or 7. I don't think he'll always listen to me. But most of the time, if I let him know I don't like the way he's yelling at my kids. Yelling at my son, at least. So he will listen to me. He will try to see the lower voice. Yeah. Yeah, I can see 6 or 7.

Speaker 1 [00:30:58] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:31:02] It's the.

Speaker 1 [00:31:05] All right. We pull it up again. Absolutely. So. What about this statement? It still applies. One means your husband doesn't do it at all. It's not true. Nine means it's completely true. My partner is usually responsive to my needs.

Speaker 2 [00:31:27] I think it is. All I can say is 8 because, yeah, I think, most of the time, that's why I'm telling you, if, a middle of the highway, if my car breaks down. Right, the first thing I can think of calling him, because I think he's more responsive, he's faster response person than the rule servers are.

Speaker 1 [00:31:57] Yeah. All right.

Speaker 2 [00:32:01] Let's see.

Speaker 1 [00:32:03] So I know you kind of already answered why 6 or 7 for, for the first question, regarding your partner usually listening to you, I know you said 6 or 7. I have a question. Why not five or why not eight? Like, what's stopping him from getting a five or an eight?

Speaker 2 [00:32:23] Five is like, in middle. But I think, my husband is, he he will listen to me if I say something. If we really seriously talk about it. He always listen to me. That's the one thing. But a lot of thing, If I like and I, if I just, talking to him. Casually, not seriously. You just listen and then forget about it. Well, that's, that's another another thing. I think most of the men are doing that well in that. And most of my kids are boys. Girls. If you tell your kids to do one thing and they say, okay, I'll do it, but the other way, they are not doing it right. Yeah. So my husband sometimes the he's like, like my kids. Yeah. You said, okay, I'll do it. But the other way he's not doing that. So. I can say that in that way. He's not listening. He heard it, but he is not doing it. How can I say he's a. He's not listened to me. He does, listen to me. Right?

Speaker 1 [00:33:48] Yeah, definitely. All right, what about. So for the second question, which was, how much he responds to your needs? I know you gave him an eight, and I know you give reasons why. Can I ask the same question? Why not seven or why not nine? Why does he just get, like, the whole nine?

Speaker 2 [00:34:10] I know because he's at a job. A lot of the time, he could not answer the phone right away, so I. I can say I can count on him 100%. So if I ask him right away if he can, I can get hold of him. Of course he will. He will response right away. So. That.

That's the that's the reason. So I can see him 8. I can't see him a 9 or 10 because, sometimes I could not get hold of him. How can he response my needs right away. Right. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:34:52] All right. Thank you. All right, so for our next question, I hope you don't mind, if I ask and feel free to say if this is too sensitive for you to share. But I also wanted to know more about, you know, your physical, intimacy as a couple. So, that being said, these days, how often would you guys have, sex?

Speaker 2 [00:35:20] Not many. Not many, but, we still. Actually. I think, maybe it's from my side, cause I'm [46-50] already. Yeah. So a lot of the time, I don't think I need. I have a lot of needs from there, but, but, if he he has needs, we will. I don't know. Yeah. All right. Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:35:57] Would you say you're satisfied with your current, sex life right now?

Speaker 2 [00:36:07] I do. Yeah I do.

Speaker 1 [00:36:10] Why would you say so? Would you say it's just the same thing?

Speaker 2 [00:36:28] I think. I think, other than. Well, I don't know how to say it, but it's kind of. Yeah, I think. I think, for me from my side because, I think, simple, simple hug, simple touch is, it's a pretty good already. All right? Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:37:00] Yeah. That's fine. Thank you. All right, so, I have one. I'm going to show you one, maybe two more. Next slides like I did earlier. So let me just try to share my screen again. Here. So basically, it's just the same question. It's a similar question, but now I'm asking you, like, how satisfied are you with your relationship? You can use any one of these terms to describe it. Completely dissatisfied. All the way until completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:37:42] I can say very satisfied, but not completely satisfied. Of course, there are some thing. Yeah, I can see. Very satisfied.

Speaker 1 [00:37:54] Very satisfied. Right. So very satisfied. Okay. So. Oh. Yeah. Here we go. I guess so. I know you said that you're very satisfied with your relationship. How would you rank that, though, on a scale of 1 to 10? Zero means you're not at all satisfied. Ten means you're completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:38:27] And so it should be 8 or 9.

Speaker 1 [00:38:30] 8 to 9. All right. And why would you say 8 or 9?

Speaker 2 [00:38:41] Because, it's not completely satisfied. But of course, in that relationship, there are some, something. Sometimes you are not happy to each other. But most of the time, I think, in current situation, I'm pretty satisfied. Because, this is like a staple. A lot of the things a staple, you don't have to worry many other things. Not like at dating with, okay. The stage. Totally different. So get it. Get married, have kids. This is a very, I think, a very bonding family right here. So, yeah, I'm pretty satisfied.

Speaker 1: All right.

Speaker 2: If if, you say. Why not, ten... Because, there are many things, like a fantasies stuff is not like, when you don't have a lot of freedom now because you have very responsibility right here. So if I won't go. If I won't go out, I will think, okay, if my kids have a date, who can make a dinner for him? I know my husband and I take care of it, but I still worry. So I think that that's, one thing from mom's side, not from wife's side. For me, I think, from wife's side, I don't worry about my husband. He. He can take care of himself. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:40:27] Okay. That's good. So, we're nearing the end, so I just have a few more questions. Do you think the relationship fulfilled your expectations?

Speaker 2 [00:40:45] Oh, sure, I see. Of course not 100%. Well. When I was young, I think at that time I have a lot of a dream about my future partners, how he can look like, how he's going to take care of me. Well, a lot of the fantasies that, in real life. I think. Is that not a thing? Not fantasies. Not not totally the same, but. But, well, I, I think that in having a family is more stable. So is. How should I say it's a different. But, you feel a little bit more safe in a good relationship. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:41:46] All right. Okay. So, so we're close to wrapping up. I would just like to summarize what we've, conversed in the past, around 45 minutes. Just to clarify, I know you're [46-50] years old. You've been with your partner for around [16-20] years. You have [1-5] kids. But I know you said your family, you have a simple structure. [Portion Redacted]. I know you mentioned trust. Simple for a simple family structure. You also mentioned, communication. I know you mentioned some of your friends. Their relationships kind of ended in divorce due to financial situations. If I'm saying something wrong, feel free to correct me right away. I know you had a few ex-boyfriends a few years ago, and trust was an issue. You talked about communication. That was very important. And you also mentioned having a lot of tension and housework can be a problem. You've mentioned, you know, love. You said love is comfort. And how important is love and the relationship. So it was very important. You said your challenges in the relationship. You said for your two kids. You mentioned especially your son. You. Yeah. It seems that the only, conflicts are about really about, the kids education. Mostly the son. You said that the relationship is good. Relationship? There could have been a change that could have not really been a change that the relationship didn't really, change you guys that much. You mentioned feeling safe, and we did some of the rankings. You mentioned 6 or 7, but also ranking 8 when it came to being responsive. You said you were very satisfied and you gave him a rating of, like, 8 or 9. But that being said, one of the last few questions I have is, is there anything else that you wanted to add?

Speaker 2 [00:44:33] Not really. I think. Yeah. Not not much.

Speaker 1 [00:44:39] All right. Okay. First of all, thank you so much. But before we end, I want to talk to you about how we are. We will handle the data. That was why we discussed it. But as a research project, we want to be as ethically transparent as possible. So we want to. We wanted to know which data sharing option you'd be most comfortable with. Option one, is that up? Transcript portions can be shared, none of which can be identified to you. So the de-identified transcript can also be read by other researchers. Or option two if you're bolder. The whole transcript. Another option is that the whole transcript can be shared or removed of sensitive and overly identifying details, so it will be anonymized. Although this although in this option there is a very minimal chance that someone who knows you very well can piece together the details and narrow down who among their colleagues they believe it is. Although once again, no sensitive information will be shared. So of the two options, which is more comfortable to you? Option 1 or 2.

Speaker 2 [00:45:59] I think. So, for one, sharing with everyone. That's what you say?

Speaker 1 [00:46:07] Option one. Oh, was it okay? So option one is just just the portions of the transcript will be shared. Nothing will be identified to you. So that the identified transcript can just be read by other researchers. So basically only portions of the transcript, option two or. And basically the whole transcript will be shared except we'll remove like any, any information that, would identify you.

Speaker 2 [00:46:42] I should say one should be okay.

Speaker 1 [00:46:45] Okay. Option one. Okay. Sounds good. Okay. So first of all, thank you so much again for participating. I'd like to note that I want you to know that this study is also being done in the Philippines, Brazil, Turkey and France, as well as the US, for this study to be successful. There's also one more thing that we, that I want to ask you if that's fine. Can you recommend two close people in your life as a nominator? We would ask them for additional couples that might be interested in the study. But we'll be asking them for couples that you don't know, or people that you don't interact with. This way, we can get as diverse and as a network as possible. Would that be fine? Or if you do feel like you know anyone who could help out.

Speaker 2 [00:47:40] I'm not sure, but I can ask her if they are interesting about to participate in this survey or not. But, before I get their permission, them. I can't say anything. Right?

Speaker 1 [00:47:53] Yeah. You just you just say if they want to participate in a survey that talks about pretty much just relationship politics.

Speaker 2 [00:48:03] I can ask [Name].

Speaker 1 [00:48:05] All right. Yeah. And if you ever find any, person, or any couples that could qualify, let us know. You can just let us know via email. It's the email that, I used to reach out.

Speaker 2 [00:48:25] Okay, first of all, I need to find it out. Do they have to be, in [Country] or not?

Speaker 1 [00:48:34] Yes. Yes, they need to be in the [Country]. Or they can be, immigrants. However, if they are immigrants, they have need they would have need to be in the [Country] before they hit [1-5] years old.

Speaker 2 [00:48:48] Okay. Okay. And do they need. Do they need, like. If. Well, if if they their worst. Can they be participate in this survey or not?

Speaker 1 [00:49:07] I'm sorry. Could you repeat?

Speaker 2 [00:49:07] Could you if if if they the worst, can they, can they be in this survey or not?

Speaker 1 [00:49:15] If they're worse. Well, we're currently looking for.

Speaker 2 [00:49:21] Yeah. Right.

Speaker 1 [00:49:22] But we at the moment, they don't necessarily have to be married. Okay. Yeah, they could just be boyfriend or girlfriend, and that would be fine. At the moment, we're really looking for, couples who have been together for 5 to 10 years, and their income isn't really that, you know. You know, their income isn't. It's like below the it's below the median.

Speaker 2 [00:49:45] Then maybe I don't know any or below the median. How much is the median?

Speaker 1 [00:49:54] I'm not really sure. I guess you can kinda just estimate that. Don't have them, data off the top of my head. Alternatively, we. It's also fine if we have. It's also fine if you know any LGBT, couples that are, like low satisfaction that you kind of know they aren't really. Satisfied with their relationship, but are also once again low to medium. You can kind of just, you know, just try to gauge if you think that they're just below the average in common.

Speaker 2 [00:50:32] Yeah, I, I think most of my, my. The people I know they are either [Job] or well, yeah, most of them. Most of my friends are [Job], so I don't think they, their income has a issue. Yeah, I don't think that's the issue for them. Yeah, yeah. So in that, in that way, they are not qualified in your research.

Speaker 1 [00:51:03] But here's one more. If there is a couple that, you know, that's been together for more than 20 years or like 20 or more years, medium to high salary, but you know that they're not happy in their relationship.

Speaker 2 [00:51:19] Oh, I can ask in that case, like, I.

Speaker 1 [00:51:22] More than twenty years. Maybe at least like one of them. But. Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:51:30] Okay. Sure.

Speaker 1 [00:51:31] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:51:32] So.

Speaker 1 [00:51:34] With that being said. Thank you. Let us know if you have any couples who are interested. Apart from that, thank you so much for participating. This will really help. And have a nice night.

Speaker 2 [00:51:55] Okay. Same to you. Bye. Bye bye.
