

Speaker 1 [00:00:03] All right. Okay. So, yeah, we have a few questions here. This interview should take approximately, like, an hour or so. So. Yeah. So I'll start with some basic demographic questions. First of all, I'd like to know, how old are you?

Speaker 2 [00:00:20] In my [46-50].

Speaker 1 [00:00:21] [46-50]. Okay. How long have you been with your partner?

Speaker 2 [00:00:27] [16-20] years.

Speaker 1 [00:00:28] [16-20] years. Okay. Do you have children?

Speaker 2 [00:00:36] I do.

Speaker 1 [00:00:37] Oh, yes. How many children do you have?

Speaker 2 [00:00:42] I have [1-5].

Speaker 1 [00:00:46] Can I know who lives in your household?

Speaker 2 [00:00:52] Me, my wife, and my [1-5] kids.

Speaker 1 [00:00:55] Oh, that. Yes. What is your main source of income?

Speaker 2 [00:01:05] I am employed.

Speaker 1 [00:01:07] Yeah. Yeah. So what would you say your current job is?

Speaker 2 [00:01:12] I was in [Job Type].

Speaker 1 [00:01:14] [Job Type]? Yeah. What role are you in [Job Type]?

Speaker 2 [00:01:18] I'm a [Job Title].

Speaker 1 [00:01:20] A [Job Title]. Okay. All right. So for the rest of this interview, how would you like us to address your partner? Would it be like a girlfriend? Wife? Partner?

Speaker 2 [00:01:34] That's my wife. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:01:35] My wife.

Speaker 1 [00:01:36] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:01:37] Okay. So the next question I have for you. I'm interested. Can you tell me about your love story?

[Portion Redacted]

Speaker 1 [00:02:48] All right. Thank you. So for my next question. I guess how would you compare the quality of your relationship compared to the relationship of your friends?

Speaker 2 [00:03:02] I think it's pretty good.

Speaker 1 [00:03:06] Why would you say that It's pretty good?

Speaker 2 [00:03:18] Because nothing bad happened so far, I mean.

Speaker 1 [00:03:22] Okay.

Speaker 2 [00:03:23] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:03:25] All right. Can I ask, also, how many romantic partners did you have in the past? So, like, how many partners did you have before your wife?

Speaker 2 [00:03:39] Just one more.

Speaker 1 [00:03:41] Just one partner. What was that, like, a girlfriend or.

Speaker 2 [00:03:46] Yeah. A Girlfriend.

Speaker 1 [00:03:49] All right. How would you compare the relationship of your. With your wife compared to the relationship you had with that girlfriend?

Speaker 2 [00:04:01] It's hard to compare because that's when I was in school, so, you know. And you don't have to worry about the other stuff in school. And then once you graduate, you need to find a job. You need to do any other stuff. So. It's hard to compare.

Speaker 1 [00:04:21] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:04:23] Yeah, I guess so. Yeah. That's, that's pretty true. So for my next question, I guess what would you say for you? What makes a relationship High-Quality and what makes it a low quality?

Speaker 2 [00:04:47] Like if we have mutual understanding and we do not fight. I mean, there's always fight, but you don't fight a lot. And. Yeah, I think that's. That's the two most important things for me.

Speaker 1 [00:05:08] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:05:09] And what would you say would make it low quality? Like what would make your relationship a low quality relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:05:16] Like, you don't agree on a lot of things, and you fight all the time, you know?

Speaker 2 [00:05:27] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:05:28] Yeah. Part of it.

Speaker 1 [00:05:34] Yeah. Okay. So, when would you say that you. Can you like. When would you say your relationship had, like, a lot of mutual understanding.

Speaker 2 [00:05:48] Like. You said. Where?

Speaker 1 [00:05:55] When? Like, can you, like, name? Like, can you, like, name a time or like an event where or like, how would you know if a relationship had mutual understanding?

Speaker 2 [00:06:08] Oh. Like.

Speaker 2 [00:06:18] Like, say, when you have kids, you know, you tell the kid, you need to do this, you know, you need to not to do other stuff. And I think we, most of the time, are all in the same page. So the kids, well, got the, you know, got the same information and not, you know, different things from different people.

Speaker 1 [00:06:42] Yeah. And I guess one, would you say a relationship would be. When would you say that your relationship had very little or few mutual understanding?

Speaker 2 [00:07:01] You mean for me or just general speaking?

Speaker 1 [00:07:05] For you?

Speaker 2 [00:07:13] Don't have too many of those, but. I guess, you know, we're just two different people, so we cannot agree on everything all the time. And. There were sometimes, you know, if something comes up and, you know, we have different opinions, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:07:33] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:07:34] Yeah. If, if we can talk it out and then I think that's better than just, you know. You know, disagree and keep fighting you know.

Speaker 1 [00:07:48] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:07:49] Yeah, that makes sense. Well, thank you for that. Okay. So, I know you touched on some of these things in your previous answer or so. I just kind of want to ask and or clarify. What would you say is the most important thing in a relationship? Or are the most important things in a relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:08:17] Obviously understanding. Yeah. And? Yeah, sometimes I have the same feeling towards the same thing. I mean, not always, but, you know, the more the better.

Speaker 1 [00:08:31] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:08:32] And just to clarify. Why would you say these two are probably the most important.

Speaker 2 [00:08:40] If you don't agree on stuff, then you just keep. You know? Fighting with each other all the time and then it's not good for any relationship is not good for the kids you know?

Speaker 1 [00:08:52] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:08:54] All right, so for my next question, my next question is basically about love. So for you, what is love?

Speaker 2 [00:08:55] Love...

Speaker 1 [00:09:08] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:09:14] Like. Like say, when you are in a bad situation, when you have a bad mood and that's the person you want to be with the most. And you want to talk to that person. And. You want to call that person. You know that person, not you're—ying

Commented [1]: double check :)

Commented [2R1]: For this miss I think nagkaron po nang internet problem kaya nag cut yung sinabi ng speaker.

Speaker 1 [00:09:41] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:09:45] All right. Thank you. How important is love in a relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:09:52] Yes. Very important I think.

Speaker 1 [00:09:58] Very important. All right. How would you know that? Your wife love you?

Speaker 2 [00:10:09] Because you care about me, I mean. Like, like the little things, you know? The. You know what kind of food I like, and then, you know. She remembers the date of certain locations, you know. And then. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:10:37] Uhuh.

Speaker 2 [00:10:38] And then what else?

Speaker 1 [00:10:44] All right. Yeah. That's fine. All right. So, I guess, the next question I have is, what would you say are the challenges in your relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:11:03] Challenges, I'll be like. How we handle the next. Maybe next. Like a bad thing that might come, you know, like, like the teenage kids or, you know. Yeah, that's a big. Yeah, it's a big challenge, I think.

Speaker 1 [00:11:25] Yeah. Yeah, definitely. I guess, so to follow up on that, do you and your wife fight?

Speaker 2 [00:11:36] You mean physically? No.

Speaker 1 [00:11:37] Nah. Nah. Nah. I mean. So yeah. that—what is it.

Speaker 2 [00:11:42] You mean, you mean keep arguing stuff.

Speaker 1 [00:11:46] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:11:56] Maybe.

Speaker 1 [00:12:02] All right.

Speaker 1 [00:12:08] All right. So. I know you said you're not really sure, but, how if, like, these kinds of things do happen, how long do they often last? Or how often you're sorry. How often?

Speaker 2 [00:12:26] Not that often. Maybe once a year. Maybe once or twice a year at most.

Speaker 1 [00:12:35] Okay. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:12:40] You know what? You remember what these fights are about?

Speaker 2 [00:12:44] It's about kids.

Speaker 1 [00:12:47] About kids?

Speaker 2 [00:12:48] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:12:50] All right. What specifically about the kids?

Speaker 2 [00:12:55] You know, the kids. And when they get to teenage age, they don't listen to you. You know, they be stubborn. They don't wanna do homework, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:13:07] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:13:08] Definitely.

Speaker 2 [00:13:09] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:13:12] Okay. How do these fights, how do you resolve these fights?

Speaker 2 [00:13:22] Oh, I will just let it. Just let it.

Speaker 2 [00:13:27] Oh.

Speaker 2 [00:13:30] After normally after about a day or two is going to cool down and then we can talk it out in the. And then we'll have to talk to the kid.

Speaker 1 [00:13:41] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:13:42] And then. Yeah

Speaker 2 [00:13:43] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:13:44] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:13:48] Okay. So aside from that, what are other ways that you maintain your relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:14:00] Like.

Speaker 2 [00:14:05] Like for me. I have to, you know, show her the. I care about her all the time.

Speaker 2 [00:14:18] Okay.

Speaker 2 [00:14:19] And I care about the kids, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:14:23] About her and the kids.

Speaker 1 [00:14:25] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:14:26] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:14:27] Nice. All right. Thank you. Okay, so this next question. I know you're ready. Touched on it. Like I said, I want to clarify this one as well. Would you say that the relationship is good for you? And why would you say it? You know what your answer would be.

Speaker 2 [00:14:49] It's good for me what it was. Can you say that again?

Speaker 1 [00:14:52] Yeah. So would you say that the relationship is good for you?

Speaker 1 [00:14:58] And why?

Speaker 2 [00:15:12] Is your question. About. Being good compared to other people or.

Speaker 1 [00:15:21] It's kind of just in your, it's kind of like just from, how do I say this. It's like from your. How's your relationship kind of helped you, like, achieve your goals or. Regulate like help you like in then in like everyday life. Like, has it been better than the relationship improved those kind of things or, you know.

Speaker 2 [00:15:54] What I always say so. I mean. If I, if I'm by myself right now, there's a lot of things will be different. And. And I don't think I want to go back to those, those days. So. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:16:15] All right.

Speaker 1 [00:16:19] So for my next question, this one has to do against, you know, with the relationship, did the relationship change you? If so, in what way?

Speaker 2 [00:16:40] Change me...

Speaker 2 [00:16:52] It made me learn more stuff, that's for sure. Like childcare you know? Let me see. And, in some called teach me. How do you. You know to care about other people? I would think so.

Speaker 1 [00:17:17] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:17:21] Thank you for that. What about. What about your wife? Did she change during this relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:17:29] I don't think so. I think she's still the same, at least to me.

Speaker 1 [00:17:35] All right. Said she, like, she just never— like this, would you say? Like she's still the same the first day you met her?

Speaker 2 [00:17:47] You know, personality wise, I think. She's still like that.

Speaker 1 [00:17:53] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:17:54] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:17:57] All right, so next question I have for you is, do you feel safe in the relationship, and why do you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:18:09] Yeah, I feel safe.

Speaker 1 [00:18:14] All right.

Speaker 2 [00:18:16] Why? I mean, that's a hard question. Why not? I mean.

Speaker 1 [00:18:25] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:18:27] Could you provide some examples? Of how, of like, of these feelings of safety or like, provide examples of how you feel safe with your partner.

Speaker 2 [00:18:40] You mean? You mean for the stable relationship is what you mean? Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:18:44] I mean, it's kind of like about you. Like, do you feel physically, emotionally safe? Socially safe. And, it can be either physical or emotional.

Speaker 2 [00:19:04] What kind of example you-

Speaker 1 [00:19:08] Yeah. So, for example, these could be like being able to open up to your partner about your experiences, your thoughts, your identity without, like, having fear of judgment or, you know, knowing that your partner will be there if you need comfort. So something like that.

Speaker 2 [00:19:28] Yeah. Cause. We, we we talk about work after, you know, come back home and then we'll talk about stuff every day and, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:19:40] All right.

Speaker 1 [00:19:42] And Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:19:43] Okay. Thank you. Let's see. All right. So this next part I'm going to show you like a slide or a ahm, I'm gonna show you a slide on my laptop or a computer on my phone screen. There we go. So there should be a screen up here. It's basically a slide, and it has the statement here. "My partner usually really listens to me". On a scale of 1 to 9. How would you rate your partner on the, the. How would you rate your wife on this one? One means not at all true. Nine means completely true.

Speaker 2 [00:20:33] I was eight.

Speaker 1 [00:20:36] You'd say eight, alright

Speaker 1 [00:20:40] So. Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:20:48] All right, let me show the slide. It pulled it down, but. Yeah, certainly. Let's bring that back. Right. So for this next slide, I have another one here. It says, "my partner usually is responsive to my needs". It's the same thing. Or can you rate to her from 1 to 9? One is not at all true. Nine is completely true.

Speaker 2 [00:21:19] I would say nine.

Speaker 1 [00:21:20] You would say nine. All right. Okay, so for the question regarding like your partner usually listens to you or my partner usually listens to me, you rated your wife an eight. Can you explain why eight?

Speaker 2 [00:21:39] Because she sometimes, she has her way, you know, maybe she'll listen, but she doesn't want to agree with me.

Speaker 1 [00:21:54] Right. Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:21:55] Can you give me an example of when this happened?

Speaker 2 [00:21:59] Hmhm. When.

Speaker 2 [00:22:16] Maybe for kids, you know? I mean, sometimes, you know.

Speaker 2 [00:22:29] Let me see.

Speaker 2 [00:22:40] Like. Me. Okay, so here, maybe an example. She tell me, you know, you have to, tell the kids to finish their homework. You have to check on their homework. I said, yeah, I do that, but I told the kid to do it. If the kid doesn't do it, and then, I'm not supposed to be the guy who got blamed, you know, it's the kid. And sometimes I just say, oh really—example blah blah. You know, I feel, you know, if the kid doesn't listen to me, then how can I be blamed for something that I don't do.

Speaker 1 [00:23:25] All right.

Speaker 1 [00:23:26] Thank you. So I know you rated her eight. Why not seven? Or, like, why not nine?

Speaker 2 [00:23:39] Because a few. We agree on most of the things you know. So. She's not like. You know, I say A, She says B you know. She's not that type.

Speaker 1 [00:23:53] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:23:57] Okay. All right. So for question number two, I know you gave from nine, that's what my partner, that's the question on my partner is usually response is usually responsive to my needs. You rated her a nine. Can you explain to me why she got a nine?

Speaker 2 [00:24:18] What kind of needs are we talking about here?

Speaker 1 [00:24:21] You mean it can be any of your needs? Like it could be physical, emotional, or any other needs that you feel like you need or want from your wife.

Speaker 2 [00:24:35] I think she's really supportive, so I wouldn't really give her anything lower than, you know, the max score.

Speaker 1 [00:24:44] Yeah, right.

Speaker 1 [00:24:46] Definitely. No Definitely. Yeah. Can you give me an example of, when this happened, when she's been supportive?

Speaker 2 [00:25:05] I'm like one of us. One day, you know? I find, one of my relatives passed because of the COVID. And then I went home. And then she looked at me. She said, you look a little different. And I didn't say anything. And then, you know, she just hugged me and said, oh, oh, something going on?. And so I told her, I mean. You can tell I looked different that moment when I came home. So.

Speaker 1 [00:25:43] All right?

Speaker 1 [00:25:47] Okay, so, I know. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:25:52] Let's see. All right.

Speaker 1 [00:25:55] And. And I know you kind of already answered. That's why she deserved the nine you said you wouldn't give her like lower than the max score.

Speaker 1 [00:26:06] All right.

Speaker 1 [00:26:07] Okay. So for this next question, I hope you don't mind if I ask and feel free. Like, feel free to say, if this is too sensitive for you here. But I also wanted to know more about your physical intimacy as a whole. So, that being said, these days, how often do you guys have sex?

Speaker 2 [00:26:39] Okay, a minimum, maybe once a month.

Speaker 1 [00:26:44] Okay. Would you say, how satisfied are you with your sex life?

Speaker 2 [00:26:53] Oh, I'm really satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:26:56] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:26:57] Right. Why would you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:27:06] Because she responds the same way, like we did, like [16-20] years ago. So I don't feel any change. So.

Speaker 1 [00:27:16] Okay?

Speaker 1 [00:27:20] Okay, so, for the next one, I want to show you two more slides. And, next part. So I have this question right here. How satisfied are you with your relationship? And these are kind of your options." How satisfied are you with your relationship?" The lowest being completely dissatisfied. The highest being completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:27:54] I will say. Also between the last two.

Speaker 1 [00:28:03] Like between very and completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:28:06] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:28:07] All right, that's fine. All right, here we go. So on a scale of 0 to 10, how would you relate or rate? How would you rate your satisfaction? Zero being you're not satisfied at all. Ten, being you're completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:28:25] Mmm

Speaker 2 [00:28:30] I would say nine and half. If I say ten, then you know nothing is perfect. But it's pretty. I mean, there's nothing else I can ask for, so.

Speaker 2 [00:28:40] I'll just.

Speaker 1 [00:28:43] Okay. So you said that was like, so you said it's like around the nine and a half.

Speaker 1 [00:28:48] Yeah. All right. Nine and a—

Speaker 1 [00:28:58] You said there's nothing really much to ask for.

Speaker 2 [00:29:05] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:29:06] So, I guess, could you let me know? Like, why specifically? Nine and a half. It's, like, very specific.

Speaker 2 [00:29:15] Because nobody's perfect, and. There's always going to be some bumps there, here and there, but. Besides those bumps. I'm pretty happy now. And she asked me one question the other day. She's like kind of joking with me. She's like, oh, what if I'm not, you know, in this world anymore? You're going to. Remarried to some other people. I'll just say straight. No! Cause you know. You know I won't be able to find someone like you.

Speaker 1 [00:29:57] Okay. Yeah. Thank you. Thank you for that. Well, I guess. Why not nine? Why not 8.5 or...

Speaker 2 [00:30:07] Well, because.

Speaker 2 [00:30:12] You know, she has friends. I have friends, you know, some of them get married and got divorced. You know, compared to those, those couples, I feel I'm pretty lucky enough, you know, to be with her for all the years, so. I don't want to pick on anything, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:30:34] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:30:37] All right. Did the relationship fulfill your expectations?

Speaker 2 [00:30:48] I will say yes. Yes.

Speaker 1 [00:30:51] All right. Okay. So we are close to wrapping up. I would just like to summarize what we've conversed in the past. Hour or 30 minutes or so. Just want to clarify that I got everything right. You said you're [46-50] years old. You've been married for [16-20] years. You have [1-5] children. You live with your wife and your kids. You're in [Job Type], specifically a [Job Title]. [Portion Redacted]. Your relationship is pretty good. Nothing bad has really happened. It's hard to compare. Yeah. You said it was hard to compare your old relationships, and, you know, there's a very big time gap. You said hiring a good quality relationship would have mutual understanding and no fights. A low quality would probably be the opposite, where you don't agree at all, and you're fighting all the time and relationships have mutual understanding. They can agree it's going to be hard if they cannot agree. Yeah, and understanding and agreeing on the same thing is important because you always keep fighting if you don't have it. It's, we said, you know, love is basically when you're in a bad situation or bad mood. This is who you want to be with and be with the most and talk with that person. Call them. Said love is very important. You know, she loves you because she cares about little things like food and dates. Certain occasions. Let's see. I know that you. It seems to me, from what you said, that you said. That your current challenges just tend to be about the kids, that no fights physically, arguing. You know, there's probably. It's here from time to time. You know, you know, you show you care about her and especially your kids. The relationship is good for you. I think it's. You think you're probably better off now than you were, like, without your wife? I know you mentioned that, You know, you learned about childcare and how to care for other people. You don't think your wife changed at all. You said you feel safe and you have an example over here about coming to work and being able to talk. You gave her ratings of eight and nine. You gave me an example about time with the kids and their homework. Give another example. You gave another example. Including COVID 19. You mentioned in terms of sex life that you're satisfied. It happens around at least once a month. You said you're very satisfied. You rated high at 9.5. All right. So, first of all, thank you so much. But before we end, I want to talk to you about how we handle the data here.

Speaker 2 [00:34:32] Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:34:33] Research project. We want to be as ethically transparent as possible. And so we wanted to know which data sharing option you'd be most comfortable with. Option one is that the transcript portions can be shared, none of which can be identified to you. So the de-identified transcript can only be read by other researchers. Option two if you are bolder. Another option is that the whole transcript can be shared. But removing the sensitive and overly identifying details. So it will be anonymized. Although this option, there is a very minimal chance that someone who knows you well can piece together the details in the transcript and narrow down among their colleagues who they believe it is. Although once again, no information, no sensitive information here will be shared regardless. So that being said, of the two options, which are you more comfortable with?

Speaker 2 [00:35:39] Can you-

Speaker 2 [00:35:39] Repeat the first one.

Speaker 2 [00:35:40] Again? I'm sorry.

Speaker 1 [00:35:41] Yes, the first one is that the transcript portions can be shared. None of the portions will be identified to you. So the de-identified transcript can also be read by other researchers. So option one, it's mostly just transcript portions.

Speaker 2 [00:36:01] Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:36:02] Well, option two is the whole transcript.

Speaker 2 [00:36:03] Oh just option A then.

Speaker 1 [00:36:05] Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:36:06] All right. Right. So that being said, we're almost done. Thank you so much, again, for participating in this study. I want you I would like you to know that this study is also being done in the Philippines, Brazil, Turkey, France and the US.

Speaker 2 [00:36:27] Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:36:29] Yeah for this study to be successful, there's also one more thing that we will ask you. That's fine. If that's okay for you. Can you recommend, like, two close people in your life as a nominator? We would ask them for additional couples that they, that might be interested in the study, but we'll be asking them for couples that you don't know or people you do not interact with. This way, we can get it as diverse a network as we can get. Is that fine for you?

Speaker 2 [00:36:59] Sure. But I hope I can find.

Speaker 1 [00:37:04] Yeah. If you. If so, Basically, it's like. If you feel like, you know, someone who would be interested in the study. So, for example, if you might, for example, if you probably know someone who's been and for example, someone who's been in the relationship for like more than 20 years, they have medium to high income. So their income is relatively good. But, you know, they're not like satisfied with their relationship. That could be an example. Or maybe if you know someone who has been in a relationship for 5 to 10 years, they're very satisfied. But, you know, their income isn't really a lot. If you feel like you know someone who knows that kind of person.

Speaker 2 [00:37:57] I don't have those person on top of my head. I can try, but I cannot promise you I can find two people for you.

Speaker 1 [00:38:11] Alright. Yeah that's fine. If you do find some, you can just, probably email me on the email that I contacted you with. If you give us, like, their contact information, I just need their name and email. That will be fine. If you do find someone, let them know that I will reach out. That way they don't block my email or report me or anything.

Speaker 2 [00:38:38] Okay.

Speaker 1 [00:38:39] But that being said, thank you so much for participating. We, we really do appreciate it. And that being said.
