

Speaker 1 [00:00:01] All right. Well, thanks for participating in this interview. As mentioned over email, we want to know as much about your views on romantic relationships. And we believe your experience would bring much to the project. Before we start, is it okay if I record? We'll use it for transcription. Slash notetaking only.

Speaker 2 yes

Speaker 1 [00:00:32] Okay. So how old are you?

Speaker 2 [00:00:35] [20-25].

Speaker 1 [00:00:36] And how long have you been together with your partner?

Speaker 2 [00:00:40] [1-5] years.

Speaker 1 [00:00:42] Do you have any children?

Speaker 2 [00:00:44] No.

Speaker 1 [00:00:45] And who lives in your household?

Speaker 2 [00:00:48] Yes, me and my boyfriend.

Speaker 1 [00:00:51] Partner. What's your main source of income?

Speaker 2 [00:00:55] My job.

Speaker 1 [00:00:57] And was the job.

Speaker 2 [00:01:00] Of [occupation].

Speaker 1 [00:01:02] And how would you like to address your partner, boyfriend, partner, lover, etc..

Speaker 2 [00:01:09] Boyfriend.

Speaker 1 [00:01:10] Okay. So start off. Can you tell me about your love story? How did you guys meet?

Speaker 2 [00:01:16] Um, we met through a dating app called [Name].

Speaker 1 [00:01:25] So can you tell me how you guys met?

Speaker 2 [00:01:28] We met through a dating app called [Name]. Where? You use or whatever. And then the. Lest we message each other from there, then hug now and just, you know, everything kind of lined up perfectly after that.

Speaker 1 [00:01:47] Yes, he got just one, like went on a one date and then.

Speaker 2 [00:01:51] Yeah, we went on one day and then, well, we were like face timing for like [1-5] months straight. And then we decided to finally hang out. Well, I wanted to hang out, but his car was in the shop so he couldn't pick me up. And then finally he picked me up from my [Company] job and we hung out that night. And then from then on, we were like connected.

Speaker 1 [00:02:14] Yeah. Like, guys started hanging out, like, all the time after. Yeah. Like every day type of situation? Oh.

Speaker 2 [00:02:22] Yeah. Like every weekend. But then, like, once we actually started dating. Dating, then we started, you know, like, way more, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:02:29] Yeah. How long did it take for him to ask you or if you asked him to be, like, official?

Speaker 2 [00:02:38] It took me. I wanted to say [1-5] months. No. Yeah. Yeah, like [1-5] months because we started dating [Month] [Day] or [Month] [Day]. And then we, like, hung out all of [Month].

Speaker 1 [00:02:51] Okay. And then how would you compare the quality of your relationship compared to that of your friends relationships?

Speaker 2 [00:03:03] Oh, I would say it's pretty, pretty good quality.

Speaker 2 [00:03:07] Compared.

Speaker 2 [00:03:07] To my people around me. You know.

Speaker 1 [00:03:11] You would say it's better. Yeah. Yeah. What? How would you say it's better? Are there certain things that make your relationship better than your friends?

Speaker 2 [00:03:23] I think I mean, based off of what my friends have told me that their significant others do versus like, for example, my current boyfriend would never do certain things that they do to them, if that makes sense.

Speaker 1 [00:03:39] Like, give me an example. Like, Well if you can

Speaker 2 [00:03:45] My old friend had a boyfriend who would, like get drunk and then spit in her face. And my boyfriend, when he gets started, becomes very like lovey and wants to be around me and stuff. So that's like just not, I don't know, like and just like certain things where like they're like, Oh, like he doesn't want to do this for me, but like, my boyfriend, like he does it without even thinking twice, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:04:11] Yeah, Yeah. So, so like, basically, like he treats you a lot better and you don't really ask for it like people do.

Speaker 2 [00:04:20] Yeah, like, I don't beg for respect. He just, you know, naturally gives it to me.

Speaker 1 [00:04:26] Yeah. And how many romantic partners have you had in the past? If it's a boyfriend, like, whatever. Now, how would you compare the quality of your relationship compared to that of your previous relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:04:54] I mean, it's much better.

Speaker 1 [00:04:57] How is it better?

Speaker 2 [00:05:00] Oh, I see. I just feel a lot more respected. And I feel like. Like a true actual, like half and a half relationship versus one person just giving it all, you know, it's like balanced.

Speaker 1 [00:05:18] Excellent. Yeah. So is like your previous relationship, they were on, like, there for you? Yeah. As much as you were there for them. Yeah. But now it's more even. Yeah. And what makes a high quality relationship for you?

Speaker 2 [00:05:40] I would say trust. And. Respect and you know, just like caring for each other, like, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:05:56] And why would you say, like, those are good qualities?

Speaker 2 [00:06:01] Because I feel like it's you want to feel like you can trust your partner and like that you can live your life kind of by yourself while also having them there with you. But also like, I don't know, explain it like it's like. You know, just living your life with another person and always knowing that somebody will be there for you. Like no matter what happens, like you don't really have to go through life by yourself. Like you have somebody there, like on your sidelines basically just like cheering you on or like you're there for them to cheer them on. And I think respect is really important because if you don't respect your partner, then. I mean, just living without respect to the generals like.

Speaker 1 [00:06:47] Heart, you know? Yeah. Yeah. No, no, no. That makes sense. That's like. Yeah, it's nice to have somebody to support you. Like, well, you know that they'll support you and no matter what happens or anything. And then what makes a low quality relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:07:07] I think not having trust and. Being disrespectful to one another. You know, like if you don't respect your partner, then you're not going to treat them well and you're not going to. And if you don't trust somebody, then I feel like trust is honestly, like the most important thing in a relationship, you know, because if you're constantly thinking that like, your significant other is going to leave you for somebody else, like it's just not going to work out, you know, like you're always not going to feel like secure and you're not going to feel. I feel like it's the most important thing in a relationship is to be confident in yourself. And if you're not confident that your partner is not going to cheat on you, then you're not going to be confident in yourself.

Speaker 1 [00:07:51] You know? Yeah, like, yeah, definitely a partner shouldn't like add on to any, like, negative emotions, like being anxious about them and, you know, being, like, scared they're going to cheat on you.

Speaker 2 [00:08:04] Exactly.

Speaker 1 [00:08:05] And can you tell me how one knows they're in, like, a trustworthy relationship and a respectful relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:08:19] Not just. No. Or just like your partner. Just always. Showing up and being 100% there for you and like. Just knowing that like. I know. Like, whatever you go through, like they've just showed up for you no matter what. Like, even if it's, like, something stupid where like, you're having a panic attack because something and they just, like, are there for you, even though, you know, it's like minuscule. But for them, it's like not, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:08:53] Yeah, it has not happened before. But you say that's an example of like where where you knew like you're in a trustworthy relationship.

Speaker 2 [00:09:02] Yeah, definitely. I mean, multiple times, but yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:09:05] Yeah. And what would you say your relationship was, like, most trustworthy and most respectful, and when was it the least? If there was at least?

Speaker 2 [00:09:20] Oh, no. Like. I don't know. Like the most stressful like. I don't know. Like all throughout all of it, I guess, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:09:34] He's been pretty consistent.

Speaker 2 [00:09:36] Yeah, pretty consistent. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:09:38] Would you say the beginning you weren't as trustworthy with him, or is it always felt like, consistent?

Speaker 2 [00:09:45] I mean, obviously I was like. You know, hesitant because of everybody like society and everything, you know, like it's hard to find somebody who truly like for you 100%, you know? So obviously, I was a little bit like, you know, I should trust this guy. But after like spending the month not even dating him and like, seeing who he truly was, like I kind of already was like, oh, like he's he's a real one, you know? Like, I don't know. It was, like, easy to tell, you know? Well, obviously, like having anxiety itself, like, and being on social media and like, seeing all these other people, like, getting cheated on and like, all of that, like, it's hard to fully always have like, 100% trust, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:10:32] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:10:33] Just like because of myself though, you know what I'm saying?

Speaker 1 [00:10:37] Feel like to age group is like so big on like, I don't know if it's just not talked about before, but now it's just I hear it all the time like is like they like, went and had sex with them. It'd be like they're at the bar flirting or Yeah, they're like texting either like it just on the whole spectrum. Just because some people don't have any morals. And for you, what's the most important thing in a relationship? Trust. Anything other than, like, the things you said before. I know it's kind of like the same question.

Speaker 2 [00:11:22] What is important thing? I guess. I don't know. Quality time or something like. Just like, I don't know, just being there for one another. Like, even say, like. I don't know.

Speaker 1 [00:11:41] I know quality time is a good one. A lot to be honest about before. And why would you say quality time is the most important thing in a relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:11:53] Because you're in a relationship with one another. So you should be kind of always working on solidifying that relationship. And quality time obviously helps that. And I think it depends on what type of quality time you're talking about, because you could be sitting on that couch on your phone and just like together. And that's not technically quality time, you know, Like, I feel like when you're connecting with one another and having a conversation, not with any distractions and just focusing on one another and how each other feels and everything is important, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:12:32] Yeah, like actually doing activities and stuff together, not just like sitting there and, like, in proximity.

Speaker 1 [00:12:40] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:12:42] And for you, what is love? Yeah, that's a hard question.

Speaker 2 [00:12:52] I love.

Speaker 2 [00:12:53] Him.

Speaker 2 [00:12:56] Our love is having. Somebody who just like understands you even more than you understand yourself. Like they know how you're feeling, even when you don't know how to put it into words like they can comprehend. They can put what you can't put into words. Into words for you and somebody. I don't know, I think.

Speaker 1 [00:13:32] Yeah. Is there like, I know you like mentioned some qualities of, like, what? A high quality relationship would you say? That's like part of, like, love is like the things you listed of like, trust and respect and stuff like that. Would you say that's part of love?

Speaker 2 [00:13:51] Yeah, 100%. Because, I mean, if you love somebody, then that's it's easy to respect them and easy to trust them. And it all kind of goes down into one thing, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:14:03] Yeah. And how important is love in a relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:14:08] I think it's.

Speaker 2 [00:14:10] Very important one for all three things. Hmm. You can, like, bring it on like one of being the most important thing in a relationship.

Speaker 1 How would you rank it?

Speaker 2 I would say number one. Yeah. The most important thing over. Like trust and respect.

Speaker 1 [00:14:31] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:14:33] And how do you know your partner loves you?

Speaker 2 [00:14:39] Because he puts up with it.

Speaker 1 [00:14:43] laughing

Speaker 2 [00:14:44] I know that I'm not, like, the easiest person to deal with because, I mean, I'm growing as a person and I have a lot of emotions that I don't understand. And I have, like, anxiety that I don't understand. And to have somebody stand by me throughout all of my. I don't know. Mistakes. And just like. Behavior of not being as stable as everyone else's, I guess, you know, and and just like having him there to, like, support me fully, no matter how crazy I'm acting, I guess, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:15:18] And having anxieties being crazy. But yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:15:22] Yeah, yeah. You know what I mean?

Speaker 1 [00:15:25] I see what you're saying, though. And is there anything else that he does to show you that he loves you? Like, I know being there is a big thing because I could go like under a lot of umbrellas. But is there like, simple things that he does? I mean, that's how, you know, he loves you.

Speaker 2 [00:15:42] Like he texts me in the morning or like when he leaves for work, he like. Like we sleep in the same bed, obviously. So he, like, tucks me in before he leaves to work and like, always, like, kisses me on the forehead and like, little things, like, he just buys me flowers randomly. Like, just. And like. Buy me food?

Speaker 1 [00:16:04] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:16:05] Little things like that. Like, obviously. Like they all add up, you know? And he, like, text me when it's cold outside and he's like, oh, like, don't forget a sweater. Like, you know, things like that.

Speaker 1 [00:16:15] Yeah. Yeah. And what would you say are challenges in your relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:16:23] I think the main challenge would be my anxiety for sure.

Speaker 1 [00:16:29] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:16:31] I don't know. We are in this overall kind of society, to be honest, like because I feel like it makes me feel insecure, just like seeing things happening on social media and stuff like that. So like, I think that's kind of like the hardest part is just like ignoring all of that, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:16:53] Like seeing what?

Speaker 2 [00:16:55] Like people cheating and, you know, girls like. Are not girls, but, you know, girls being cheated on, like guys being cheated on in general, you know, just like stuff like that, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:17:07] Oh, yeah. You get like, get anxious about like, if something would happen, but it's just like more anxiety.

Speaker 2 [00:17:14] Yeah. Like it's.

Speaker 1 [00:17:15] Not, it's not like you need does, it's just.

Speaker 2 [00:17:18] Yeah, it's literally my own mind messing with my mind.

Speaker 1 [00:17:23] Which is. And do you guys fight?

Speaker 2 [00:17:27] Yeah. Every now and.

Speaker 1 [00:17:29] Then. How often would you say these fights are?

Speaker 2 [00:17:36] And. I mean, I don't know how to like, I don't know, not not super often, but like, we do bicker, obviously, because, I mean, we live with each other and we're around each other a lot. So I feel like bickering happens that often. I don't know. I don't know how to put a gauge on it, but definitely not like more than. I don't know.

Speaker 1 [00:18:01] Like here and there? Yeah, like. Yeah. Once every other week or something like that.

Speaker 2 [00:18:07] I was like, nothing. Not like daily, Not once a week. Not like, you know.

Speaker 1 [00:18:11] Yeah. And what would these fights usually be about?

Speaker 2 [00:18:16] Just honestly stupid stuff like. I don't know. Like, sometimes. It'll just be like, because I'm really hungry and like, I get like, annoyed easily. So then I like, am a little bit rude to him. And then he. Doesn't respond in the best way. And then we kind of go at each other just like not in the best way. And it just escalates like. It just kind of escalates. And like I think usually it's more so.

Speaker 1 [00:18:54] Your. Kitty going wild.

Speaker 2 [00:18:58] It's more so like. The light. Like our emotions are real. I don't know how to explain it. [Redacted].

Speaker 1 [00:20:09] Yeah, I like them all.

Speaker 2 [00:20:11] Yeah. And I think a lot of it has to do with our egos because I don't like to admit that I was wrong. And he doesn't like to admit that he was wrong, But at the end of the day, like, it's stupid. And you know.

Speaker 1 [00:20:22] And that's like when I just rewashed that freaking closed door and put a red dress in with like and I didn't and separate any of the clothes and every single white clothes turn pink like boxers, turn pink socks. My pink socks are still paying like, well, seriously, it's so bad. And I even knew that red dress was in there and I still just threw it in there.

Speaker 2 [00:20:51] Sorry. Sorry.

Speaker 1 [00:20:52] So. Yeah. So there's just like small little fights and don't have them and. How would you resolve those fights? You say like kind of just like by talking it out.

Speaker 2 [00:21:07] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:21:08] There's did like somebody like put their ego down and like say sorry for this or is like out isn't it Usually it's easier.

Speaker 2 [00:21:16] That says for me my boyfriend that's a sorry first like he's like. You know, this is stupid. Like, I'm sorry for saying what I said, blah, blah, blah, you know? And then I eventually say sorry, which is not okay.

Speaker 1 [00:21:33] Yeah. Yeah. And usually talk it out. How is. What are other ways? I'm. Okay. Aside from, like, just like, talking out and putting your ego away, what are other ways you maintain your relationship? So like for you guys. So after the fire, like, is there something you guys do to maintain to that relationship after your fights?

Speaker 2 [00:22:22] I mean, I.

Speaker 2 [00:22:23] Really.

Speaker 2 [00:22:24] I feel like we just kind of go back to.

Speaker 2 [00:22:28] Our day to day.

Speaker 2 [00:22:30] You know, I feel like we just don't we don't dwell on it and we don't like we're not like like we just fought like, this sucks sometimes I'm like a little bit emotional and I'm like, Oh, we fight, you know? And then he's like, It's fine. Like, you know, But we kind of just like, go back to normal, I guess. I don't know.

Speaker 1 [00:22:48] But yeah. And what would you say the relationship is good for you and. Yes.

Speaker 2 [00:22:58] Yes.

Speaker 1 [00:23:00] And why is it.

Speaker 2 [00:23:01] I think it's good for me because it it's taught me it it teaches me to be patient and it teaches me to. Be more confident and just kind of like, go after what I want.

Speaker 1 [00:23:20] Yeah. Like you go after you. I mean, like future.

Speaker 2 [00:23:25] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:23:25] Like my day to day.

Speaker 2 [00:23:27] Yeah. Like my life. Like my job. Like my career. You know? Like it. Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:23:36] Would you say that? Yes. You're able to achieve your goals easier having him? Yeah. Yes. Did the relationship change you and in what way?

Speaker 2 [00:23:54] I would just say it has changed me, I think for the better for sure, because as I think before this relationship, I had a lot of animosity towards like people in general just because of like my life history and [redacted] stuff. And I was like. Kind of negative towards everything and like just didn't really have like a whole. I don't know. I was a very positive person. And being in this religion has taught me that like. That I was that way, you know, that makes sense. And it kind of like has changed me to like. It has made me realize that there is.

Speaker 2 [00:24:41] A.

Speaker 2 [00:24:42] Don't good in the world.

Speaker 1 [00:24:45] And so when you say that, it like made you like be more optimistic or it made you like, just like feel better, just about like, life in general or both.

Speaker 2 [00:25:00] I think both, to be honest, just because, like I feel like before when I was myself, I guess, like I was just kind of like, there's nobody out there for me. Like, I'm just going to, you know, ride it out or whatever, you know, like. I don't really need anybody. But then. But. Okay. So something happened?

Speaker 1 [00:25:23] Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:25:25] Something happens. It's like a little like this.

Speaker 1 [00:25:27] Gone.

Speaker 2 [00:25:29] Know it like it moved my computer screen because I have two computers. So now it's all my other one. Sorry. Okay. But yeah, so basically, like, I just have more kind of optimism if somebody ask.

Speaker 1 [00:25:46] And what about your partner? Did they change during the relationship?

Speaker 2 [00:25:55] Yeah, I would say so.

Speaker 1 [00:25:58] And what way?

Speaker 2 [00:26:01] I think that he is a lot more. And I guess motivated in life. I feel like before, like he was just kind of in a like. Day to day, like, you know, repeating the same day over and over again. And I feel like I kind of we kind of helped bring out the best of each other and, like, realize that there's more to life than just, like, getting through the day, you know?

Speaker 1 [00:26:30] Yeah, yeah. So, yeah, it's like, it's just made like, every day feel easier each other through it and like, just feel better about, just like have somebody there to talk to. Mhm. And do you feel safe in the relationship and why do you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:26:53] Yes, I feel safe because I've never been shown any reason not to feel safe. There's never been any instances where I've felt unsafe in my relationship.

Speaker 1 [00:27:07] Can you give me an example of like, feeling safe in the relationship or just, like, feeling safe with them?

Speaker 2 [00:27:21] I mean. For, like if I go out. To somewhere at night time. And I'm with him and I'm scared. Like I know that he's there. So I'm just like, I kind of like basically when I go out with him, I'm not aware of my surroundings at all. Like, I literally kind of just feel like I don't care about anything else. And like, he's there to just like focus. Like if I'm, for example, I sometimes, like, I try to cross the street without even like, looking. And he's always there to like, stop me from doing that.

Speaker 1 [00:28:00] So I guess I feel safe. That's good. Yeah. Well, now your brain kind of shuts off, and he, like, takes over.

Speaker 2 Actually, I literally.

Speaker 2 [00:28:13] Don't think at all.

Speaker 2 [00:28:15] When he's.

Speaker 2 [00:28:15] With me, but, I mean, like, that sounds bad, but, you know, I mean.

Speaker 1 [00:28:21] Something like that. I actually. And so now next, I'm going to show my screen and put up a slide show, not a slide show, but. Let's see. Yes. So. Think this is. Okay. Your. Oh. Oh. There you go. Now we don't. What the heck? Nope. Huh? Huh? She's. I'm sorry. I don't know about that. Well, let mean. Hold on. Stop sharing and see what just happened here. Have so many tabs open for. I don't even know why I need to delete some of these off my computer. I've been struggling all day, but I'm doing basic things. Okay. I'm not confined to the ones like. I'm almost done to. Not that the whole tab deleted really because I had so many tabs open. Now you like have to write an essay or something or just do an assignment of a whole bunch tabs. Yeah. Action. All right. So. Oh, shoot. Okay. Can you see?

Speaker 2 Yes.

Speaker 1 Okay, so with the statement of my partner usually really listens to me. How would you say a look from not true at all to completely true. 1 to 9.

Speaker 2 [00:31:36] Say eight.

Speaker 1 [00:31:37] Eight. And then. For this statement. A. To the statement. My partner usually is responsive to my needs. How would you rate it from 1 in 9?

Speaker 2 [00:31:56] I turned on.

Speaker 1 [00:31:58] The nine then. I'm just going to ask. Anderson, I ask you this now, and I'm doing that later. How satisfied are you with your relationship from Completely dissatisfied. Very dissatisfied. Somewhat dissatisfied. Unsure. Slash neutral. Somewhat satisfied, but very satisfied. Completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:32:23] I'd say Completely satisfied.

Speaker 1 [00:32:26] And how would you rate your satisfaction with your relationship on a scale 0 to 10?

Speaker 2 [00:32:32] I'm certain.

Speaker 1 [00:32:36] And. Yeah. Okay. So I'm just I'm sharing this and I got some follow up questions. So the statements, my partner usually responds. Oh, no. So I see the same in my partner usually really listens to me. You answered in eight. And can you give me an example of why you would answer? A high score for my partner is usually usually really listens to me.

Speaker 2 [00:33:09] An example?

Speaker 1 [00:33:10] Yes, ma'am.

Speaker 2 [00:33:14] Well, I don't know if that's done, but like, for example, like during Christmas for our presents, like when he gives me presents, he usually always gives me like things that I've talked about throughout the year. So, like, he's like listening to things that I want, you know.

Speaker 2 [00:33:33] It's like it's dumb

Speaker 1, that's actually really good. What I learned is to take notes every time somebody says they want something and take a note of it in my notes, and then I go back to it for [Event] and buy everything so smart. Now that's actually a really good example. And for the statement, my partner usually is responsive to my needs. You put nine, which is completely true. Can you give me an example of why that's completely true? Um.

Speaker 2 [00:34:08] Like when I'm hungry, he always makes food or gets food for me, no matter what.

Speaker 1 [00:34:15] You ask me. Yeah.

Speaker 2 [00:34:19] Or I just say I'm really hungry and then, like.

Speaker 1 [00:34:22] Already order food or.

Speaker 2 [00:34:25] You know, gets food or something.

Speaker 1 [00:34:27] Yeah, well that's some I Yeah, that's good parts. Now those are good examples too. And so feel free of this. Questions might be too sensitive to share. But we also wanted to know more about your physical intimacy as a couple. These days, how often do you have sex?

Speaker 2 [00:34:54] So once a week right now.

Speaker 1 [00:34:57] And. How satisfied are you with your sex life?

Speaker 2 [00:35:06] pretty satisfied.

Speaker 1 [00:35:09] And why do you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:35:15] I never. Because. It's not all about one person. When it's when it's happening and if that makes sense.

Speaker 1 [00:35:29] Yeah. You guys, like, make it about each other?

Speaker 2 [00:35:32] Yeah, exactly.

Speaker 1 [00:35:36] And. When? When I ask how satisfied are you with the relationship? You said completely satisfied and then gave it a ten. Can you let me know why you. And we actually think that's it. Did the relationship fulfill your expectations?

Speaker 2 [00:36:07] The.

Speaker 1 [00:36:09] On. Why would you say so?

Speaker 2 [00:36:12] Because, um, I. Well, I guess it kind of exceeded my expectations. I don't know, because I. Well, yeah, because when I thought about a relationship, like when I was younger, I guess, and I was like, oh, like, it's not that great. Like, I don't really need somebody, blah, blah, blah, like, now, like that. I'm actually in a real relationship. I realize that. It's like. It's such a. What a lucky thing to be able to experience life with somebody else and like. See it from their eyes. And it's not just like you. You know that.

Speaker 1 [00:36:51] License? Yeah. You get a different perspective on things. Mm hmm.

Speaker 2 [00:36:56] And, like, you get to come home and tell somebody about your day and, like, they actually care, and they're actually listening, like, even about, like, stupid little, you know, stuff that happened throughout your day. And you can you have somebody to talk to about it that actually is like, interested, you know? Like, I feel like that's makes you feel like you're like.

Speaker 2 [00:37:15] Important to the world, you know?

Speaker 1 Yeah. Oh, for sure. And. Who? Why did you answer a ten? Completely satisfied. When I asked you how satisfied are you with your relationship? Why did you answer that? Ten. Completely satisfied.

Speaker 2 [00:37:45] Because even though I feel like our relationship, I mean, no relationship is perfect. Like, obviously ours is not perfect. Like, we have our. Our disagreements and we have our, you know, issues that. But I feel like even though we do have those issues and disagreements, we always work through them. And I feel like sometimes obviously it's hard to be in a relationship because you're both growing and learning at the same time. But just. Like. I don't ever feel like I. I never questioned like whether or not I should be in this relationship. And I feel like that's really.

Speaker 1 [00:38:27] Important when you're in a relationship. You know? Yeah. You feel like the like you pretty much, like, feel safe.

Speaker 2 [00:38:35] Yeah.

Speaker 1 [00:38:37] And. All right. So we're pretty much done. I just want to summarize where we kind of talked within the past hour here. So you guys met my [1-5], [1-5] years ago, pretty much. And you started dating after [1-5] months and it took off from there. And now you're living together. No children yet. Never known. If and. And you guys just, like, balance each other out really well. He's there. He seems like he's there for you. Like, not even just, like, physically there to make sure you don't get hit by cars, but also being emotionally there for you. Like, you know, you excited and you also, though, are there for him and balance him out really well. I'm very satisfied with your relationship. Was there anything you wanted to add to that? The right. All right. Well, thanks so much for participating. Before we end, I want to talk to you about how we handle the data for the research project. We want to be as ethnically transparent as possible, and we want to know which data sharing option you're most comfortable with. On the consent form is going to give you two options and a click like just check off one. You don't have to do it now, but I'll just like summarize what they mean. So the first one is that the transcript portion can be shared, but none of which can be identified to you. So it's a de-identified transcript that could be read by other researchers. And then the second one is a more bolder option, and it's a whole transcript can be shared. Any sense of information will be removed. Like I don't think your name was said, but like, say, like your boyfriend's name will be removed and over identifying details will be removed from anonymous Anonymous. But this option may is a very minimal chance, but maybe somebody who knows you really well can piece together like the details in the transcript as they read the article. I mean, there's like no sensitive information that will be shared with me. Would you like. I mean, they asked, So which option are you more comfortable with?

Speaker 2 [00:41:03] The the second subprime.

Speaker 1 [00:41:06] Okay. And the second one? Yeah. That's fine. Okay. And then we also just wanted you to know that this study is being done in the Philippines, Brazil, Netherland, France and the US for this. Actually, that's pretty much it. Okay. And. Yeah. Thanks for participating in the project. I'm stop recording.
